In Town and Hamlet

The seeds of intermittent and bilious remittent fever germinate and bear evil fruit. No community has altogether escaped it. In populous wards of large cities bad sewage causes it, and in their suburbs stagnant pools in sunken lots breed it. There is at once a remedy and a means of prevention. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is without peradventure, the most potent antidote in existence to the malarial virus. Fortified with this incomparable saving specific miasmatic influences may be encountered with absolute impunity. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels begotten by miasma tainted water or any other cause, succumb to the beneficent corrective named, and rheumatic, kidney and bladder troubles are surely removable by its use when it is given a persistent trial.

Catarrhal Dangers.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time then that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the [illegible] approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT and IMPROVED INHALER, price $1

The Contest in Florida for the Successor of Senator Jones.

WELCOME RAINS IN THE WEST

The Railroad Freight Thieves—Rapid Burning of a Building at Chicago—The National Opera Company take an Enforced Rest

Campaign in Florida

TALLAHASSEE, April 13.—The election of U. S. senator to succeed "recalcitrant" Jones has a national interest somewhat beyond ordinary in that this choice will complete the roll for the next senate, and also because of the prominence the vagaries of Jones have given to the vacant seat. Absolutely nothing seems to be known here about Jones—whether he is still in Detroit, whether he has made any effort whatever to secure re-election or whether he is [illegible] it. It would not surprise any one if he should [illegible] appear on the ground and begin a [illegible] canvass, and [illegible] on this [illegible] has taken a somewhat curious phase. In spite of [illegible] that his name must [illegible] universal indignation at his course for the last eighteen months, it is a curious fact that candidates have a decided fear of what might follow his appearance. There has been an underlying apprehension all through the canvass that his return might stampede the convention. The canvass has been a very hot one, chiefly between Gov. [illegible] Perry, who has an excellent record of service in the party, as he was governor from 1857 to 1861, and Wm. D. Bloxham, who was governor from 1881 to 1885. The contest has been bitterly personal, Perry and Gov. Drew uniting their forces against [illegible]. It has resulted in so many personal [illegible] and counter-combinations that it is impossible to tell the outcome.

COPIOUS RAINS.

General Rain in all in Several Drouth Stricken States.

RAIN IN COLORADO

DENVER, April 13.—It has been raining hard here yesterday and to-day. Reports received show it to be general throughout the state. The rain is of the greatest value to farmers, who have been ready for spring plowing for some time, but unable to do so on account the dry ground. The small amount of snow which fell in Colorado last winter did not moisten the ground sufficiently to start the grass this spring, consequently stock have been suffering considerably during the past few months, because of the scarcity of grass and water. The present rain is worth thousands to farmers and rangemen.

TEXAS RELIEVED.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., April 13.—The drouth which has prevailed for so long a time in Western Texas is at last broken. There was a heavy rainfall throughout this section last night, which began after dark and lasted the entire night. Telegraphic advices from distant points show the rain was one of the most general that has ever fallen here in years. The confidence of farmers and stockmen is fully restored.

RAIN IN TEXAS

ST LOUIS, April 13.—Advices from different sections of Texas note the fall of copious rains for 300 miles along the Texas & Pacific railroad, west of Merkel and in the county north of that road. This is regarded as a great boon to the farmers living in the drouth district, and worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to the country. In many places in Texas no rains have fallen for nearly a year.

RAIN IN NEW MEXICO

SANTA FE, April 13.—A heavy fall of snow in Central New Mexico has put the ground in fine condition for spring planting. The protracted dry spell had alarmed farmers and stockmen. Ranges will be greatly improved by the snow fall, as grass will get an early start. Stock is still in fair condition, but was beginning to suffer from drouth.

THE NEEDED RAINS

KANSAS CITY, April 13.—A light rain is falling here to-night. Rains are also reported from other points in this vicinity. They have been much needed and will be of inestimable benefit.

THE FREIGHT BOODLERS

The Brotherhood of Brakemen Propose to Take Action

PITTSBURG, Penn., April 13.—John Simms, chairman of the Brotherhood of Brakemen on the Panhandle, states that he has been employed on the road the past four months, and during that time he has never seen anything crooked among the employes. The brotherhood, he said, would employ able counsel to defend the prisoners and if possible to establish their innocence. If the proofs were shown of their guilt, however, the brotherhood would assist in their conviction. They will also bring action against the company for damages if the charges against any of the men under arrest are not sustained. The United States authorities have decided to proceed against the plunderers for breaking into the government bond cars. The Pennsylvania company announced to-day that five days would be given those having in their possession goods stolen from trains in which to return the same, no questions to be asked and no further investigation to follow if the goods are returned.

TWO MORE ARRESTS

PITTSBURG, April 13.—Accomplices of the railroad thieves are resorting to threats to intimidate the Panhandle railway officers. Two more arrests were made shortly after midnight. John Barth and Andrew Smith, brakemen, supposed to be implicated in the robberies, were surprised at their homes. Barth was discharged from the Panhandle a short time ago and has since been working on the Baltimore & Ohio.

Evidence is continually accumulating that peculations on the Panhandle railroad have been much larger than reported by officials and others who perhaps are interested in placing losses at the lowest figure. It has been stated by parties in the detective bureau in this city that stolen goods stored in the rear of Giles [illegible]'s [illegible] office contain $100,000 worth of value. [illegible] Further evidences of the magnitude of the thefts is contained in statements of John Hampton, who has been attending to the legal end of the case. He says the officials of the Panhandle [illegible] desired the arrest of all of the employes of the road who are directly or indirectly concerned in the robberies it would have been necessary to stop the operation of the road. Assistant District Attorney Lagan stated that there were at least 110 informations, containing an average of three persons each. Detectives speak of the probability that some of the firemen and engineers are among the guilty trainmen. Detective [illegible], who was asked about this, would not deny or confirm it. He said, with a smile, that the engineers and firemen were a fine body of men and would not be arrested in connection with the present difficulty.

DISASTROUS FIRE

A Five Story Building Burned to the Ground in Less than Two Hours

CHICAGO, April 13.—John M [illegible]'s wall paper house, at 110 to 112 Wabash avenue, to-day, a [illegible] story marble front building, was burned early this morning. The stock [illegible] damaged [illegible] irreparably injured. [illegible] was sitting in the [illegible] story [illegible] when a sheet of flame [illegible] up to him, and he fell into the burning [illegible]. Lieut John Hebert was [illegible] on the second story, when it [illegible] to the sidewalk, [illegible] [illegible] he was [illegible] before the fire could be brought to bear [illegible] had jumped from the story [illegible] and below [illegible] upon [illegible] with the floors were [illegible]. A second and third alarm was turned in and twenty engines were soon working upon the building. The firemen said they had never before seen so rapid and complete a destruction of a large establishment. Fire was out about [illegible] o'clock, and owing to the exertions of the firemen very little if any damage was done to adjoining buildings. The loss is supposed to be about $200,000 on stock and $50,000 on the building. Insurance said to be small.

Later advices say the loss on the stock is found to be much greater than was at first supposed, and will aggregate $400,000, with only $60,000 insurance. Loss on the building $40,000, fully insured.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE NATIONAL OPERA COMPANY.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The Daily News' Omaha special says: The National Opera Company, which completed its engagement in this city last night, and which was to have left for San Francisco immediately after last night's performance, is still here. The male members of the company have been amusing themselves during the day by playing football on the platform of the Union Pacific depot, while the ladies have spent their time in Wagner's sleeping cars playing cards and reading novels. The Union Pacific road refused to transport cars containing the scenery and stage fixtures without receiving in advance $8100. Superintendent W. C. Hays, of the Wagner Sleeping Car Company, further embarrassed matters by refusing to allow the cars to be moved without the payment of $[illegible]. Manager Charles L. Locke telegraphed to Washington Conner, of New York, at [illegible] o'clock this afternoon, and received in reply [illegible] authorizing Mr Hays and the railroad company to draw on him for their money. At 8 o'clock this evening the twenty nine cars of the opera company went out as sections one and two of [illegible] passengers.

[illegible] IN POLITICS

NEW YORK, April 13.—The political managers of both parties continue to keep a sharp eye on [illegible] Sherman, and democrats have made up their minds that if [illegible] have his way the tariff issue will be forced upon them, whether they like it or not. Already two Sherman clubs have been organized. These have been quick to indorse the [illegible] sentiments of Sherman's clear cut sentences. "I should be our aim to produce everything in this country of which the God of nature has given us raw materials, or which require our soil and climate," is one of them. "Every measure should be supported that will tend to foster, defend and protect our own industries," is another. Tammany leaders, [illegible] afraid, if the campaign is [illegible] on this basis, they will lose their grip on the Knights of Labor. Hence they are appealing to free trade folks to say as little about their hobby as possible. Last week Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, received a warning from the bosses here that if he did not stop his mischievous free trade talk, New York, in spite of all they could do, would go republican.

WAR OF STOVE FIRMS

PITTSBURG, April 13.—The war between stove moulders and manufacturers has reached Pittsburg, and from present indications there will be a general strike within a few days. Manufacturers have formed an alliance known as the Stove Founders National Defense Association, which will conduct the warfare on the part of the manufacturers. To-day members of the defense association in this city received a confidential circular from D. M. Thomas, secretary of the defense association, which states that patterns of a boycotted St. Louis firm, Bridge, Beach & Co., will be sent to all manufacturers in the country, and that on certain days firms will be notified by telegraph to have mouldings made from the same. The moulders in this city say they will refuse to mold from these patterns, and that any attempt to force them to do so will precipitate a strike in the foundries of the country. The general executive committee of the National Defense Association is now in session at Cleveland arranging details for the coming fight.

JOHN T. RAYMOND BURIED

NEW YORK, April 13.—When only a few weeks ago the funeral of Samuel Colville, late manager of the Fourteenth street theater, took place at the Little Church Around the Corner, John T. Raymond, standing in the church yard, said to his friend Fred Maeder, playwright, "Well, Maeder, I guess I'll be the next." To-day his own funeral was held at the same church. The attendance was enormous, both of professionals and outsiders and immediate friends. A plain black cloth covered the coffin, which was almost hidden from view by the heap of floral designs. By telegraphic instructions from Mrs Langtry at Richmond, a large wreath was presented in her name. "For Papa," a pretty little design, was from the only surviving child, a little daughter. Services at the church began at 10:30. Rev Dr Houghton read the burial service of the Episcopal church. There was no sermon. Upon conclusion of the ceremonies the remains were taken to Greenwood cemetery and placed in the receiving vault.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

CLEVELAND, April 13.—At last night's session of the Latter Day Saints' conference at Kirtland, elder R. M. Elevin, of Nebraska City, preached about the second coming of Christ. This morning there was the usual testimony meeting, which was followed by the ordination of apostles. In the course of the exercises, which were very impressive, elder W. W. Blair, of Iowa, spoke of what he referred to as the "great apostacy which lies in the west." He said that the Utah church would be destroyed and said that he saw signs of its breaking up. The four apostles appointed are Joseph Luff, of Independence, Mo., G. T. Griffiths, of Kirtland, O., James W. Gillen, of Lamoine, Ia., and Herman C. Smith, of California.

RESCUE OF CASTAWAYS

NEW YORK, April 13.—The steamer Flamborough, from Bermuda, brought the captain and twelve seamen and Mrs. Wannmaker, a lady passenger of the steamer Saragossa, abandoned at sea. The Saragossa left Baltimore for Port Antonio on the 18th ult. She was abandoned the morning of the 22d in a severe storm, and sank soon afterward. The castaways were picked up exhausted, after being in the life boats for twenty-seven hours, by the bark Bachelor, and transferred to a tugboat, which landed them at Bermuda, where they took passage on the Flamborough.

COMPETITORS FOR DIAMONDS

NEW YORK, April 13.—There is much interesting speculation upon the question of who will become the next owner of the great Argent diamonds to be sold next month together with other crown jewels of France. The three most prominent candidates for control of the famous treasures are said to be Queen Victoria, Adelina Patti and Mrs John Mackay.

A VILLAGE BURNED

BALTIMORE, April 13.—A steamer arrived to-day from Rappahannock river, Va., and reports the destruction of the village of Farnham by fire last Monday. The population was 300 only. A Protestant Episcopal church built in the colonial days and one of the oldest houses of worship in the state, was burned to the ground.

PANIC IN SING SING

NEW YORK, April 13.—It is reported that the laundry, foundry and other buildings connected with the state prison at Sing Sing are on fire.

The fire was confined to the laundry and caused only slight damage, but occasioned a great panic among convicts, who succeeded in the suppression of the flames.

The New San Francisco Charter Defeated—Sealing in Behring Sea—A Man Killed in a Prize Fight—Coast News

The Captain's Story

SEATTLE, April 13.—Ever since the storm off the coast of Vancouver's island April 1, during which the bark [illegible] found [illegible] and the schooner [illegible] Barclay sound, [illegible] for the safety of the [illegible] Douglas, which left [illegible] March 31, and was [illegible] off Cape Flattery at [illegible] in company with the [illegible]. The fears of her loss [illegible] late developments [illegible] that she [illegible] Neil of the bark [illegible] this [illegible] April 1 during the terrible storm, I saw a three-skysail yard ship about 500 yards from us with a heavy list to leeward. Apparently the cargo shifted. I was too busy looking out for my own vessel to pay much attention to anything else. I thought it was the Ivanhoe or St Stephen. Soon after this five of my men, who had been aloft, came [illegible] and said they had seen the ship go down and wanted me to offer assistance, but being next door to distress ourselves we could do nothing at that time. We were then ten miles south of Cape Beal. Fifteen minutes later the weather cleared up and there was no vessel in sight except a schooner. My men are positive they saw the vessel sink beneath the waves. I have have written this statement to my owners in San Francisco. I am morally certain the vessel I allude to is lost, but whether it is the St. Stephen or not I cannot say. She was the only three-skysail yard ship except the Ivanhoe in these parts at that time. Capt. Douglas had his wife and daughter with him. The ship carried a crew of eighteen souls.

NEW EXPRESS COMPANY

Articles of incorporation of the Northwestern Express Company were filed in the auditor's office yesterday afternoon. The incorporators are Louis K. Rightmire, James A. Carr, Jacob Furth, H. G. Struve, M. Conrad and H. M. Shaw. The objects of the incorporation are to establish, maintain and operate any express or transportation on route or routes, by land or water, for the rapid transportation of treasure, merchandise or property of any kind from and between any place or places and beyond the limits thereof, and the dominion of Canada, to erect warehouses and other structures for the safe keeping of goods, wares, merchandise and other chattels, to do a general collection and commission business at points on the routes traveled by the company generally, to engage in any business legitimately and ordinarily belonging to express companies. The capital stock of the corporation is fixed at $10,000 divided into 1000 shares at the par value of $10 each. The duration of the corporation is fifty years. Head office and principal place of business, Seattle.

A STREET FIGHT

About 4:30 yesterday afternoon Joe Carter and a man named Smith got into a fight on Washington street, near Commercial, and hammered each other in the most approved style until separated by officers Caldwell and Thornton. Smith skipped out, but Carter, after some resistance, was taken before Justice Thomas, and being too noisy his honor ordered him locked up in the cooler to quiet down. This morning he was taken before Justice Soderberg and given twenty days in the county jail.

A RUNAWAY

About 3 o'clock this afternoon Brannigan's milk team, which was left standing unhitched in front of the brewery on Mill street, started out for a run, and went down that thoroughfare at full speed. Capt. Hatfield and one of his employes saw the team coming and seized hold of a large gate that stood alongside of the ware house and held it across the street and succeeded in stopping the runaway. One of the ponies was knocked down. No damage was done to the wagon or team.

INJURED FROM A FALL

About 5 o'clock this morning Mr McKown, a teamster residing in Belltown, started north with his team. One of the horses began to kick and in his endeavors to get him quieted down Mr McKown lost one of the lines and the team started to run. Finding he could not stop them he jumped and fell, hurting himself badly. The team was found at the end of the street car track, one of the horses being badly bruised up.

THE MEXICO INSURANCE

The insurance on the lost steamer Mexico was carried by the following companies and agencies: California $10,000, Union $7500, Firemen's Fund $7500, Sun $5000, Commercial $5000, Union of New Zealand $7000, Canton $[illegible]500, New Zealand $2500, Merchant Marine $[illegible]600, Transcontinental $2000, Franco Hungarian $[illegible]000, Madgeburg General $5000, Boston Marine $15,000.

BRICKMAKING

Henry Lalse has invested $2000 in a syndicate of property on the corner of Lane and Fourteenth streets, for the purpose of making a brick yard. He has the finest clay in the county for brickmaking purposes, and plenty of water, sand, etc. He will, if there is sufficient demand, erect machinery and engage in the business on an extensive scale.

BIG REAL ESTATE SALE.

The biggest real estate deal on the North Pacific coast is now in progress, involving the sale of over 300 lots in Whatcom. The bonds are executed, and will be delivered to the agent of the syndicate of New York and Boston capitalists. This includes about one half of the [illegible] townsite. Ottawa capitalists are also here for investments.

ARRIVALS AND PASSENGERS

The steamship City of Chester arrived in port from San Francisco at [illegible] o'clock last evening, having had a somewhat rough and tempestuous voyage up the coast. She brought 110 passengers, distributed as follows: Victoria 33, Port Townsend [illegible], Seattle 56, Tacoma 23. She [illegible] 311 tons of miscellaneous freight to this city.

NOTES

The steam schooner Leo sailed to-day with a large cargo for Alaskan ports.

The steamship Alki will take the place of the City of Chester on the route between Puget Sound and San Francisco.

FROM SALEM

SUPREME COURT CASES

SALEM, April 13.—The following cases were to-day decided in the supreme court: W. J. Stewart, as administrator of the partnership estate of Block, Porter & Co., appellant, vs. J. C. and Laura Corbett, respondents. Judgment reversed, opinion by Thayer, C. J. When judgment is rendered for plaintiff for an amount fixed by stipulation between the parties the plaintiff is entitled to costs in addition thereto, although they may not be mentioned in the stipulation. John N. Boyle, respondent, vs. James Harpole, appellant, and Marx and Jorgensen, respondents, vs. J. W. Major. Judgment in both cases reversed, opinion per curiam. This was a question where it was claimed that the notices of appeal from the justice's court to the circuit court were insufficient. The court holds that both notices were sufficient.

INDIGNANT FIREMEN.

Tiger Engine Company, at its meeting to-night, passed a series of resolutions condemning the action of the officers of the State Firemen's Association in assessing Salem firemen $[illegible]0 for tournament purposes without authority or precedent, [illegible] severely criticising the action of the president of the association, who used his official position to attain private ends. The company is determined not to pledge itself to take any active part in the coming tournament. Alert Hook and Ladder Company withdrew from the Firemen's Association some time since.

WHEAT COMPETITION

Wheat was to-day quoted at [illegible] cents per bushel, the highest price paid for several years. Local competition is the cause of the rise.

CALIFORNIA

FREIGHT TARIFF ON SUGAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—A great deal of curiosity has been developed in commercial circles regarding the action of the proprietors of one of the local sugar refineries in chartering two large clippers to take raw sugar to New York. In a general way it is presumed that the company has taken advantage of low sail freight rates, resolving to dispose of a portion of its surplus stock, and that this mode of transportation was made necessary by the increase in railroad freight tariff since the interstate commerce bill went into operation. The rate paid for these ships was exceedingly low, only $4 50 per short ton, and together they will carry over 5000 tons. Local refiners are despondent over the prospect for their business under the new order of things. "This interstate bill, with its obnoxious long and short haul clauses, is going to play havoc with us," said a gentleman connected with one of the refineries to-day. "Last year less than [illegible] the companies put out over [illegible] tons, but this year [illegible] no more than 10,000 tons will be refined in the year beginning April [illegible]. San Francisco used to ship sugar as far east as the Missouri river when the rate was 50 cents per hundred. Now that the railroad company has raised it to $1 50 per hundred, we cannot possibly compete with the East, except in the territories and Colorado. We will not get Dakota, Nebraska or Kansas and will have only a small portion of Texas into which to send our products. I can hardly tell what we will do in this emergency. Refineries have contracts for sugar to be delivered here, which have yet two years to run. It must be sent somewhere, but the market is to be found."

PORT BALLONA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Concerning the ultimate use to which Port Ballona, near Santa Monica, will be put there has been no little speculation. Reports have been started that the Atchison system, which is supposed to be behind the improvements at Ballona, will place a steamer on the line, or employ steamers, beginning in September, to bring overland freights to San Francisco from the newly made harbor. Such may possibly be a fact, but it appears to be improbable that it is the case. The Atchison system, by lease to the Atlantic & Pacific, has advantageous arrangements with the Southern Pacific. Freights are brought via Mojave without breaking bulk. It is not at all certain, however, that some arrangement will be made by the Atchison system to bring local freights from San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties to San Francisco via Ballona, having direct communication by rail with that port.

CALIFORNIA ELECTIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The proposed new charter for San Francisco was defeated yesterday by a vote of 13[illegible]4 against and [illegible]48 for it.

Latest returns up to noon to-day from the entire state indicate that amendments 1 and 2 will probably be defeated, while amendment 3 will be adopted by a small majority. San Francisco cast heavy majorities for all three, while the interior was strongly against them, though less opposition was manifested toward No. 3 than 1 and 2. Interior adverse majorities, it is believed, will overcome the city's favorable majorities on 1 and 2, but No. 3 will possibly have a small majority in its favor.

GEO. W. TYLER'S TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—The trial of Geo. W. Tyler, on an indictment for felony, was begun to-day before Judge Hunt and a jury. The indictment charges that on the 18th of May, 1885, defendant obtained a false affidavit from Isabella Clark, who was an aged colored woman, and an inmate of the alms house, which was presented in court in opposition to a motion for a new trial in the Sharon divorce case.

WHITE CHILD RESCUED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Secretary Nathaniel Hunter, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, yesterday rescued a white girl, 8 years old, who was in the possession of a Chinese woman. During the past year Mr Hunter has rescued thirty white children under similar circumstances, some of whom have been adopted by families, others are cared for in public institutions.

SACRAMENTO CRACKSMEN

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—Last night cracksmen bored two holes in the safe at the Pacific market, Tenth and J streets. Just as the work was about accomplished they must have been frightened away. There was some $5000 in gold coin in the safe.

O'BRIEN ACQUITTED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—J. O'Brien, ex-assistant secretary of the harbor commissioners, was this afternoon acquitted of the charge brought against him in connection with harbor frauds. O'Brien has been tried several times before.

TO TAKE JURISDICTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Le To Ia, alias Ah Gee, the Chinaman who kicked a fellow countryman to death on the City of Peking on passage from Hong Kong, will be tried for the offense in the United States circuit court.

KILLED IN A PRIZE FIGHT

NAPA, April 13.—Elijah Walters and F. Wagner last night, one mile from Napa, had a prize fight bare knuckles. On the first round Walters was struck on the head and became unconscious and has not yet recovered. It is reported thirty were present, though the matter was kept secret. The unexpected injury to Walters disclosed the affair.

LATER—Elijah Walters, who engaged in a prize fight last night, and was struck once by F. Wagner, has just died.

NAPA, April 13.—F. Wagner gave himself up to the sheriff. No other arrests have been made. Several witnesses to the affair are known to the officers.

CASE OF A CHINA WOMAN

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—Ling Ting, a China woman, who has been kept in bondage in a house of prostitution, escaped some time since to San Francisco and came back [illegible]. Her owner had her arrested and brought back to answer a charge of [illegible]. No one believes she committed the theft, but Chinese [illegible] is sufficient to convict her and again get possession of her. The matron of the mission and many Christian people of Sacramento are interesting themselves in behalf of the unfortunate human being. The case came up in the justice court to-day and was continued.

KILLED OVER CARDS

SEATTLE, April 13.—John [illegible] shot [illegible] Watt through the heart [illegible]. The killing grew out of a game of cards [illegible] years ago. They had been [illegible] both men were under the influence of liquor.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

SEALING IN BEHRING SEA

VICTORIA, April 13.—Advices have been received here from the Ottawa government that the American authorities have released the schooner seized last year in Behring sea. Notwithstanding the fact that no information had been received concerning the course to be pursued during the coming season a large fleet of British sealing schooners will go north to hunt for seal.

MORE ABOUT THE ST. STEPHEN

The latest concerning the ship St. Stephen, reported foundered off Cape Flattery, is that it is untrue. Men who reported it in stories of the ship Ivanhoe, which has arrived at Port Townsend, for the St. Stephen. Seeing her thrown on her beam end, through shifting of ballast in a squall, and not again seeing her, they came to the conclusion that she had foundered.

The City of Chester arrived yesterday afternoon.

Canadian Political Talk.

OTTAWA, April 13.—The various informal proceedings in connection with the opening of the sixth parliament of Canada took place this afternoon. The governor-general's speech will be delivered to-morrow. It is understood that hope will be expressed by him for an amicable settlement of the fisheries question, but nothing more will be said of the present state of fisheries affairs, except that assurance will be given that steps have been taken to protect Canadian inshore fisheries. It is definitely stated that the dominion government will ask for an appropriation to build a canal at Sault Ste. Marie, on the Canadian side, to connect Lakes Huron and Superior. It is understood that the desire of the government is to have an uninterrupted Canadian way from Lake Superior to the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

CANADIAN POLITICAL VIEWS.

MONTREAL, April 13.—The banquet to Hon. J. A. Chapleau, secretary of state, last evening, was taken advantage of by several of the cabinet ministers to define the policy of the country, or review important questions. Chapleau was till 1 o'clock this morning reviewing the Riel agitation and tariff question and denouncing the Irish coercion act. He said if the imperial federation meant free trade he would oppose it to the last, and if any attempt was made to coerce Canada the colonial bond would snap at once and forever. Referring to the fisheries dispute, he said: "Certainly we have gone very far toward conciliating our American neighbors. They have not reciprocated this cordiality, and up to this day, have not shown any disposition to make any arrangement, though we are ready, and always have been, to go more than half way to meet them." He hoped the matter would be referred to arbitration.

Sir Charles Tupper, minister of finance, made the following reference to retaliatory measures: "During six years the value of foreign goods conveyed by United States railways into Canada, and of Canadian goods carried across United States territory to United States ports for shipment amounted to $169,000,000, the transport charges for which have gone into the pockets of United States railways. This will be knocked in the head by the enforcement of the United States retaliatory bill. When it comes into operation transit traffic will be forced into Canadian channels entirely. Canada will be compelled to buy in England, and the profits United States merchants have been making will go to English merchants.

CANADIAN TOURISTS TRAVEL.

MONTREAL, April 13.—The general passenger agents of the Canadian railway and steamboat companies, now in session here to arrange summer excursion tariffs, have telegraphed the minister of customs that the proposed new regulations in regard to the admission of travelers' baggage from the United States to Canada are likely to seriously impede, if not altogether stop, tourist travel to Canada. They request that the regulations in question be not put in force till such time as the companies interested in international travel have an opportunity of expressing their views to the government.

NO INDIAN TROUBLES.

OTTAWA, April 13.—Officials of the department of Indian affairs say no information has been received tending to confirm the rumors of Indian troubles along the northwest frontier.

ENGLAND.

CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS.

LONDON, April 13.—Chamberlain, while traveling to Ayr, was met at Skilmarnock station today by a crowd, who insisted that he should make a speech. In complying with their request, Chamberlain said that for the first time in its history the liberal party was allied with men whose hands were stained with blood, and was assisting them to carry out an obstructive policy in parliament. Unionist views regarding Ireland were unaltered. Chamberlain was frequently interrupted in the course of his speech by hisses of his opponents, exceeding the cheers of his supporters.

ENORMOUS EMIGRATION.

QUEENSTOWN, April 13.—Arrivals here of emigrants on their way to the United States are at present enormous. Railways are running special trains to accommodate this class of travel. The number of emigrants now waiting steamers to carry them to their destination is already greater than can be housed in the hotels and lodging houses, and many are camping in the streets. Fifteen hundred embarked yesterday. Three thousand more are expected to arrive Saturday to take steamers here.

BEECHER'S EULOGY.

LONDON, April 13.—Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker, pastor of the City Temple, states that he is almost certain he will accept the proffered honor of delivering the eulogy on Henry Ward Beecher. He will sail in June for New York.

A SCULPTOR DEAD.

LONDON, April 13.—The death is announced of Eugene Andre Oudine, French sculptor.

MEXICO.

REPEALING THE ELECTION LAW.

CITY OF MEXICO (via Galveston), April 13.—A joint committee of congress has reported in favor of the repeal of the amendment to the constitution forbidding the immediate re-election of a president, and it is generally believed in political circles that the measure will pass through congress and go to the state legislatures for their ratification. The Partido, a liberal paper which reflects the views of the administration, takes significant ground regarding the proposed change, and cautions congressmen not to act on any supposition as to the sentiments of President Diaz, but rather to act on their own judgment as to which is the best policy for the nation.

INDIAN CHIEF CAPTURED.

GUAYMAS, April 13.—Cajeme Yaqui, the Indian chief, was captured yesterday by Gen. Martinez at a ranch ten miles from Guaymas, where he has been hiding for two months' past. His capture ends the war between the Yaquis and Mexicans, which has been waged in Sonora for two years.

Cajeme has been hidden by an Indian family for the last two months, and had sent word to Gov. Torres that he would surrender to him if he was assured his life would be spared. Gov. Torres telegraphed to President Diaz for proper authority, but before the answer came from the City of Mexico the whereabouts of Cajeme was discovered by Gov. Torres, and Gen. Martinez went personally to capture him and bring him into Guaymas. When Cajeme was found he was armed with a rifle and had plenty of cartridges, but did not make any resistance, as Gen. Martinez promised him that he would not harm him. Cajeme has been chief of the Yaqui and Mayo Indians for the last twenty years, and has had great moral strength over both tribes, being at the same time the terror of the white race in the southern part of Sonora. The whole state is rejoicing over the capture of the Indian chief, and there was a local display of fireworks, illuminations and serenades by military bands in Guaymas last night. Cajeme was captured through the treachery of one of his followers. No definite action has been taken by Mexican authorities as to what his punishment will be, as they are awaiting instructions from President Diaz.

FRANCE.

STEAMER ASHORE.

PARIS, April 13.—A dispatch from Dieppe says the packet steamer Victoria is ashore on the rocks near that city. She stranded during the fog. Several of her passengers attached life buoys to their bodies and then jumped overboard and were carried out to sea. The others have been safely landed. The Victoria, at the time of the accident, had ninety passengers, and the company owning her believe all were saved.

LATEST.

The steamer Victoria is submerged. Twelve of the passengers were drowned.

A FRENCH REPLY.

PARIS, April 13.—Le Paris, replying to the strictures of the Berlin Post on France's attitude toward Germany, denounces Germany's policy as lying, cynical and brutal.

VENEZUELA.

BRITISH FRONTIER QUESTION.

PANAMA, April 13.—A Venezuela news agency thus summarizes the situation of affairs respecting the British Guiana frontier question with Venezuela: "The English have taken possession of all the territory up to Borna and Amacura, thus depriving us of the exclusive dominion on the Orinoco river. The Venezuelan government claimed this territory should be evacuated, but the British minister claimed this action of his government was correct; answer was made to him that this action violated the treaty of 1850, which stipulated that neither party would exercise jurisdiction beyond Pemar, and that if prior to the meeting of the boundary commissioners matters were not placed on the same footing on which they stood in 1850, friendly relations would be interrupted and Venezuela would protest.

GERMANY.

A SPIRITED EDITORIAL.

BERLIN, April 13.—The Post publishes a spirited article to-day on the relations between Germany and France. Referring to French cavalry evolutions at Luneville, in the department of Muerthe-et-Moselle, it says: "These and similar military preparations along the frontier bear the character of provocations, and appear to proceed entirely from a wish to aggravate and alarm Germany."

BRANDY TAX BILL.

BERLIN, April 13.—The draft of the brandy tax bill received Emperor William's signature, and will be immediately presented to the bundesrath as a Prussian proposal.

THE POPE'S COUNSEL.

ROME, April 13.—Fanquelin says the pope has written the bishops of Alsace-Lorraine counseling them to avoid party questions and be especially careful to give Germany no pretext for complaint.

ALASKA SEAL FISHERIES.

The Question Occupying the Attention of the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A great part of the time at recent cabinet meetings has been occupied in the consideration of how far the government will go in the protection of the Alaska seal fisheries. The subject was up again at the cabinet meeting yesterday, but no conclusion was reached. The Alaska Commercial Company demand the exclusion of private sealers from the waters of the eastern half of the Behring sea. On the other hand it is claimed that a schooner engaged in sealing cannot be lawfully prevented from exercising its calling outside of a marine league from the shores of St. Paul and St. George islands. As has been previously stated, the administration fears that if it undertakes to claim absolute jurisdiction over half of Behring sea it cannot refuse the claim of Canada to control all waters within headland points on the coast of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Gen. Jeffries, attorney for the Commercial Company in Washington, insists that the two cases are not analogue and presents sound reasons for his position. The trouble is that Bayard surrendered to Great Britain the British sealing schooners Caroline, Konward and Thompson, that were seized for violating the law by revenue cutters last year, and if he holds that vessels engaged in these fisheries have no right to take seals within the eastern half of Behring sea, he admits that he was wrong in surrendering to a foreign power property that had been legally seized and condemned to the United States. Secretary Fairchild told your correspondent to-day he expected notices would be issued warning all vessels from prosecuting seal fishing in waters adjacent to fur seal islands some time before the 15th of May, but the question has not been decided by the cabinet, and was causing great vexation.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

TROUBLE IN THE PACIFIC RAILROADS COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The president's difficulties in the selection of the commission to investigate the Pacific railways do not seem to have ended with the nomination of Messrs. Anderson, Pattison and Littler. Mr. Littler is a member of the Illinois legislature, and chairman of the house committee on appropriations. He is a republican whose seat, if he resigns, will be filled by a democrat. As the republicans hold the house by a bare majority of three, Littler's resignation would reduce this to one, and his republican friends object to his leaving, under the circumstances, before adjournment next June. As that is impossible, in view of the fact that the commission ought to get immediately at work, Mr. Littler finds himself in an embarrassing position. This trouble is also shared by the president, inasmuch as the commission is required to report the results of its investigation on December 1 next, a period of scarcely eight months distant. Meanwhile the two democratic members of the commission are chafing at the delay caused by Mr. Littler's hesitation. Altogether the situation is one of considerable embarrassment.

AVOIDING SUNDAY LAWS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A way around Sunday laws in this district which are to be rigidly enforced, has been found. It is through clubs. This morning there was an immense boom in the clubs. Books were opened for almost a score of new clubs, the entrance fee to be nominal, and no dues for maintenance. Most of the books were opened by well-known saloon men, and each member is to be permitted to visit the "club" on Sunday with friends, and buy wet goods at the usual club prices, which do not vary much from those at first-class bars. A large number of applications were made to registers to-day for charters, and they were granted in every instance, by laws of old clubs being substituted with proper alterations, and the names of all the old "bums" in town going in as directors, members, etc. A test of the validity of this action of clubs selling liquors to its members on Sunday has several times been made, and the clubs are secure.

THE VISITING EX-OFFICIALS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A letter has been received here from Treasurer Jordan, who is now in Paris, saying he will visit London about the 15th inst., and that he expects to sail for New York on the 21st inst. He says ex-Secretary Manning arrived in England in much better health than when he left New York, and that his visit to Bournemouth was arranged before his departure from this country, and was not, as has been generally supposed, the result of a relapse or anything of the kind. It is thought now Jordan's successor as treasurer, will not be appointed until after his return to Washington early in May.

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A committee consisting of Messrs. Charles Rhoades and Samuel Morris, and representing the Society of Friends of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, waited on the president to-day and presented an address adopted by the society at a recent meeting in Philadelphia in regard to the Canadian fisheries question.

MISS AGNES DOLPH'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The engagement of Miss Agnes Dolph, daughter of the senator from Oregon, to Mr. Nixon, of New Orleans, is announced. The wedding is to take place next month. Miss Dolph is now in New York, where she will spend the week.

POSTAL RECEIPTS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The gross postal receipts at thirty of the larger postoffices in the country for the first three months of the present year were $4,746,046; an increase of $381,481 over the corresponding period last year, or 87.10 per cent.

A NEW POSTOFFICE.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A new postoffice has been established at Stuck, King county, W. T., with Sarah J. Inman as postmistress.

SPORTING NOTES.

BASEBALL.

CINCINNATI, April 13.—The St. Louis club went into to-day's championship game, but badly handicapped. Carruthers and Foutz were both disabled, and Boyle was put in to pitch. After one disastrous inning he changed places with Foutz, and the latter pitched a strong game, despite his lame arm. Fully 8000 people were present. The score stood:

Chicago	2	1	3	0	0	0	0	0	0—6
St. Louis	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	0—3

A Case Not Beyond Help.

Dr. M. H. Hinsdale, Kewanee, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of Consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quick Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one-half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst, and had no idea she could recover."

GRAND COMMANDERY INSTALLED

An Elegant Social Affair Last Night at the Temple—The Dancing, the Supper and the Guests

The reception and ball given by Oregon Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, last night, was the most brilliant social event of the year. The arrangements were perfect in every particular, and the many guests were received and entertained with the elegant hospitality for which the Knights Templar throughout all countries are noted. The three floors of Masonic temple were thrown open to the guests, who, on entering the building were ushered by four Knights in full uniform to the elevator, and, ascending, the gentlemen were left at the third floor, while the ladies were taken to the floor above. There a magnificent illuminated cross, the light sparkling from countless jets, directed them to their cloak room, where a corps of maids were in attendance. Each floor was handsomely decorated, beginning with the upper, which was devoted, besides the ladies' cloak room, to a card room for those fond of the more quiet sport, and adjoining it was the banquet hall. Each room was decorated with a number of banners bearing the symbols and mottoes of the Masonic order. Passing down by the stairway, carefully canvased, both steps and balustrade, to the floor below, the ladies were met by their escorts, and passing through the ante-room were ushered by two knights into the grand temple of the order, where they were received by Eminent Commander I. W. Pratt and his staff, Sir Donald Mackay and Sir B. E. Lippencott. After being presented a general reception was held, and at 10 o'clock the installation services were begun. Sir T. McF. Patton introduced the several officers to be installed.

Those fond of dancing were at liberty after paying their respects to the eminent commander and his staff, without waiting for the initiation services, to descend to the ball room, where the best of music was in attendance from 9 o'clock on during the entire evening. Entering the main doors, heavily draped with flags, the large, brilliantly lighted dancing hall presented a beautiful appearance. The walls all around the hall were hung with banners and bright colored pennants, red, blue, green and yellow predominating. To the left of the doors was a little booth from which delicious punch was served with lavish hand. Midway along the south wall, and extending from floor to ceiling, hung the grand banner, presented to the commandery while in San Francisco in 1883. The stage from which a superb orchestra of thirteen pieces dispensed music never has been so tastily, yet so simply dressed. Two large flags fell in graceful festoons to either side, while a huge banner fell in heavy folds between them, together completely hiding the old unsightly scenery. At 11 o'clock the banquet room, on the upper floor, was thrown open, and an excellent supper was served by Messrs. Baum & Brandes, who had an efficient corps of waiters during the remainder of the evening. At the supper, as in the ball room, and, in fact, all the other features, the able work of the committee on arrangements was evident. Following are the names of the several committees, of which Sir P. S. Malcolm was chairman:

On reception, Sir B. G. Whitehouse and Sir Eugene D. White; on ball room, Sir F. A. E. Starr and Sir D. C. McKercher; on refreshments, Sir John R. Foster and Sir J. F. Watson. To each gentleman on the several committees, and to them altogether is due the greatest praise for the perfect success of the evening. Taken altogether, the affair was an unqualified success, and, with their ball of three years ago, will go down in the social annals of this city as a red-letter night.

THE INSTALLATION.

These impressive services were witnessed and followed by an audience which filled the temple. About three months ago the three commanderies in the state, namely, at Portland, Albany and Eugene, petitioned for a warrant to constitute a grand commandery for Oregon, and designated the officers whom they desired should govern it. The petition was granted, and last night Sir Irving W. Pratt, as the deputy of the grand master of Knights Templar of the United States, and acting under his authority constituted the grand commandery of Oregon, and obligated and installed the officers. They are as follows:

Grand Commander—James F. Robinson of Eugene.
Deputy Grand Commander—R. P. Earhart of Salem.
Grand Generalissimo—F. N. Shurtleff of Portland.
Grand Captain-General—D. P. Mason of Albany.
Grand Prelate—S. M. Yoran of Eugene.
Grand Senior Warden—R. S. Bean of Eugene.
Grand Junior Warden—George Humphrey of Albany.
Grand Treasurer—A. Roberts of Portland.
Grand Recorder—T. J. Babcock of Salem.
Grand Standard-Bearer—G. E. Withington of Portland.
Grand Sword-Bearer—J. M. Hodson of Eugene.
Grand Warder—J. W. Masten of Albany.
Grand Sentinel—F. W. Osburn of Eugene.

WHERE IS THE STREET SUPT.?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On East Park, near Jefferson street, can be seen a heap of refuse, dumped there by parties occupying the medical college building, that is a disgrace to our city. It has been allowed to remain there so long that rank grass several inches high has sprouted up through it in every direction; probably trying to conceal the disgusting refuse from the sight of strangers when they drive on this the finest street in the city. Where is our street inspector? P. D.

RAILROAD NOTES.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ELECTION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Pacific company the following officers and directors were elected to-day: For the Central Pacific railroad—Leland Stanford, president; C. P. Huntington, vice-president; E. H. Miller, Jr., secretary; Timothy Hopkins, treasurer; Charles Crocker, C. F. Crocker, W. V. Huntington. For the Southern Pacific railroad—Charles Crocker, president; C. F. Crocker, vice-president; Timothy Hopkins, Charles Mayne, W. V. Huntington, N. T. Smith, S. L. Wilcutt. The earnings for the past year show a net increase of more than $15,000,000 over last year. The directors of the branch lines are all re-elected.

WORSTING CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The Panhandle road has made the same rates on freight from Pittsburg to Keokuk and Burlington as it makes to St. Louis. As the quarrel between Eastern and Western lines has resulted in the abrogation of pro-rating, and local rates are charged to and from Chicago, this results in all of the western business from Pittsburg being diverted from Chicago. The Lake Shore railroad, which is a competitor for Pittsburg business and only connects with Chicago lines, is threatening retaliation against the Panhandle.

EXCURSION RATES.

The committee appointed by the Western Passenger Association to prepare a report regarding excursion rates submitted one to-day. It directs that special rates shall be given to state fairs and large conventions and gatherings, such as Knights Templar, Odd Fellows and Grand Army of the Republic. The association is now considering whether these excursions shall be conducted on the old certificate plan or thrown open to the public on the date when conventions shall be held.

REVISING RULES.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Members of the Central Traffic Association of the passenger department continued in session to-day, revising their rules to fit the new law. Differences of opinion on essential points were so marked, however, that but little progress was made.

B. & O. DIVIDEND.

BALTIMORE, April 13.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the B. & O. Railway to-day a dividend of 8 per cent. on the main stem and 5 per cent. on the Washington branch for the past six months was declared. President Garrett was not present.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

BOGUS MONEY.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The den of a gang of sawdust swindlers in full operation was raided here to-day, and the gang, four in number, Joseph Little, W. J. Brown, George Wheeson and George Plotts, were locked up. The police seized over $2000 in new bank notes, many express packages of alleged bogus money, and six dry goods boxes filled with addressed stamp envelopes, most of them to southern and western points.

EXPRESS ROBBERY CASE.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The Daily News' special from Morris, Ill., says: All evidence in the trial of Brakeman Schwartz and Watt for the robbery and murder of express messenger Nichols, was completed this evening. The testimony against the prisoners has been purely circumstantial. Arguments begin to-morrow. The case will probably be given to the jury Saturday.

PRIESTS EXERCISED.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Roman Catholic clergymen of this diocese continue to be greatly exercised over the testimony in favor of Archbishop Corrigan as against Dr. McGlynn. The outspoken denunciation of it by Dr. Curran and others has caused some of them to talk freely against it. A few of those who had signed the paper, it is claimed, have ordered their signatures stricken off. Said one well-known priest yesterday: "The paper was a big mistake. It was gotten up by a few of the archbishop's over-zealous supporters who had an idea that the American priest could be bulldozed into anything, but they find out we think for ourselves, and we won't be driven. I know one young priest who was told if he did not sign the paper he would fall under suspicion. Then he replied with just indignation: 'I'll never sign it, if that is to mark my loyalty to my bishop.' Two archbishops owned to the council that they refused to sign and denounced the scheme. I don't wonder the archbishop practically repudiated it. It has been given up as a bad job."

Rupture Permanently Cured.

No surgery. Work every day duty; cures guaranteed. Call on or address Fordew & Luther, Rooms 8 and 9, First National Bank, Portland.

PRESBYTERY OF OREGON.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell Deserts the "Carcass of the Rebellion."

HE ADDRESSES THE PRESBYTERY.

First Day's Proceedings—Calls from Various Churches—Portland Selected as the Place for the Next Meeting.

EUGENE, Or., April 13.—Presbytery of Oregon convened at the Presbyterian church in this city, at 7:30 last evening. The spacious church building was crowded to its utmost capacity by the delegates, their lady friends and residents of the city. After some excellent singing by the church choir prayer was offered by Rev. J. V. Milligan, of Ashland, stated clerk, after which, by a preconcerted arrangement, with a committee of the State Temperance Alliance, Rev. Mr. Dilworth addressed the audience on the subject of abolishing the saloon and the drink traffic. The reverend gentleman spoke for an hour in a most eloquent manner and introduced in a masterly manner many strong, logical arguments why this evil should be suppressed. At the close of the address Hon. J. Voorhees, retiring moderator, called the presbytery to order and delivered an excellent practical address. The roll of the churches was then called and the following members and delegates responded:

Ministers—M. A. Williams, Medford; Robt. Robe, Brownsville; J. A. Hanna, Oak Ridge; Donald Ross, Portland; E. J. Thompson, D. D., Albany; C. F. Waldecker, Bethany; H. S. Holt, Portland; W. A. Smick, Roseburg; G. A. McKinley, Eugene; Geo. Ross, Tualatin plains; E. N. Condit, Marion; Thos. Boyd, South Portland; J. V. Milligan, Ashland; D. O. Ghormley, East Portland; E. R. Pritchard, Albany; E. R. Murgatroyd, Independence; E. W. O. Forbes, Albina; E. T. Ingle, Gervais.

Elders—E. C. Holden, Astoria; H. A. Temple, Brownsville; J. H. Scott, Crawfordsville; Caleb Davis, Corvallis; John Jones, Beaver creek, Wm. Benedict, Roseburg; Prof. J. A. Straub, Eugene; T. W. Rutherford, Marion; C. Condit, Pleasant Grove; O. P. S. Plummer, Portland; J. F. Rhodes, Sellwood; John Honeyman, Calvary, Portland; W. B. Ray, St. Johns, Portland; J. R. Ewing, East Portland; J. Gusendorfen, Albany; Hon. J. Voorhees, Gervais; J. A. Van Eaton, Salem; J. P. Emmett, Spring valley; A. W. Stowell, First church, Portland.

Licentiates—J. E. Day, Clatsop plains; J. A. Gardner, Lafayette; fifteen ladies from different localities of the Woman's Presbyterian Home and Foreign Missionary society.

Rev. E. R. Murgatroyd was elected moderator. J. F. Rhodes, temporary clerk, and E. C. Holden, reporting clerk.

SECOND DAY.

The morning session of the presbytery met at 9 o'clock, Rev. E. R. Murgatroyd, moderator, presiding.

After roll call Rev. H. A. Newell, formerly of the presbytery of Utah, presented his credentials and was duly received and his name enrolled as a member of the Oregon presbytery.

Stated Clerk Rev. J. V. Milligan read the minutes of last fall meeting of the presbytery at Albany and the pro re nata meeting in Portland in February last, which were approved.

The moderator announced the names selected to fill standing committees.

Rev. E. J. Thompson, D. D., resigned the chairmanship of the home mission committee, owing to his time being fully occupied in ministerial and educational work. His resignation was accepted.

The names of absentees from the last meeting were called, and valid reasons being given, they were excused.

Rev. W. O. Forbes was elected chairman of the home mission committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Thompson.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell, of Roseburg, being present, was invited to sit as a corresponding member.

A motion was introduced to form a committee to revise the appointment of home mission and other permanent committees, which was warmly discussed until the time appointed for the half-hour service, which was led by Elder E. C. Holden, after which the morning session closed with prayer by Rev. Thos. Boyd.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Moderator Murgatroyd called the presbytery to order at 2 P. M.

Rev. W. H. Landon, of Calvary church, Portland, arrived and took his seat.

The question of the next place of meeting was introduced. Invitations were extended by the Astoria church and the First Presbyterian church of Portland. The roll being called, Portland church received a majority of votes and the next meeting of the presbytery will be in Portland.

Pastoral calls were read from the following churches: From Salem church to Rev. H. A. Newell; from Corvallis to Rev. E. J. Thompson, D. D.; from Albany to Rev. E. R. Pritchard. Referred to a special committee consisting of Rev. J. A. Hana, J. A. McKinlay and Elder C. Condit.

A communication was read from Dr. A. L. Lindsley, appealing for aid to students in the seminary by way of special contributions from the churches. This the presbytery referred to a special committee of Revs. D. O. Ghormley, W. H. Landon and Elder Voorhees.

A motion prevailed on the overture submitted by the general assembly to pay from the contingent fund $2100 deficiency in the late permanent committee on temperance appointed by the general assembly.

The first overture from the general assembly in reference to the elder moderatorship was voted on by call of roll. In favor, 31; noes, 6. On the same subject, second overture, 27 yeas, 10 nays.

A communication from Rev. R. J. Laughlin stating that on account of continued ill health he had resigned his pastorate of St. John's church, Portland, and asking to be placed on the retired list was read. The request was granted and a special committee, consisting of Revs. W. S. Holt, T. Boyd and Elder Plummer, appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

A communication was read from the publisher of the Church at Home and Abroad, and referred to Revs. Donald and Landon and Elder Stowell.

The treasurer's report was presented and referred to the proper committee.

The committee on reception of members reported on the application of Rev. J. R. N. Bell, of Roseburg, to become a member. This presbytery made a report and the matter laid over at Mr. Bell's request, awaiting the arrival of his dismissal papers from the M. E. church, South.

The committee on pastoral calls reported favorably in reference to the calls already mentioned, and the invitations were placed in the hands of the ministers named, awaiting their action.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell having to return home, asked and obtained permission to address the presbytery, stating that his relations with the denomination he was leaving were of the most pleasant character, and his chief reason for desiring to change was because he believed as a member of presbytery he could do more good.

Rev. E. T. Ingle was appointed chairman of the permanent committee on temperance, vice R. J. Laughlin.

Rev. E. J. Thompson, D. D., chairman of the committee on licentiates, reported that the licentiate, J. E. Day, had made excellent progress in his studies, but Mr. Day himself requested that his admission be deferred till the fall meeting.

The following ministers present were, during the afternoon session, invited to sit as corresponding members: Rev. Henderson and Rev. Smead, Cumberland Presbyterian church; Rev. Hill, Baptist; Rev. S. P. Wilson, M. E. church.

The afternoon session closed with prayer by Dr. Thompson.

STATE DISPATCHES.

A MISTAKEN REPORT CORRECTED.

ASHLAND, April 13.—An account in yesterday's OREGONIAN of the situation of the injured members of the Stutz Dramatic Company on the Siskiyou mountains does gross injustice to the parties concerned. The house they are in is not a cabin, but a hotel, built by Riddle for railroad times. It has a number of rooms and each room occupied by the injured ones has a fire in it. All have had the best of surgical and other attention. All but one are out of danger and well enough to start for Yreka to-morrow morning. The driver is also improving steadily. They have had abundance of good food and such delicacies as they would relish sent up to them every day since the accident.

PASSENGERS VIA YAQUINA.

YAQUINA CITY, April 13.—The steamer Willamette Valley arrived this afternoon with a good cargo of freight and the following passengers: W. F. Corcoran, S. Case, A. T. Bautzey, E. PORTLAND, THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1887.

THE SWAMP LAND FRAUDS.

During a month past the United States grand jury at Portland has been investigating the swamp land frauds. As a result, indictments have been found against R. V. Ankeny, H. C. Owen and W. H. Barnhart. Ankeny was here some four years ago as an agent of the general land office and entered into combination with Owen and others to get possession of lands and make money out of them; Owen has long been a principal operator in the business, and Barnhart was an agent of Owen in the various operations. The three are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States, and Barnhart, in addition, is charged with forgery of documents. It is probable that the cases will not be brought to trial for some months, and perhaps not until next fall.

The basis of the prosecution is the charge that these men have defrauded or attempted to defraud the United States by getting title to lands under the swamp land grant that are not of swampy character. The main case, therefore, will turn chiefly upon a question of fact. If the lands are of swampy character, the United States has not been defrauded, though they may still have a case against their own corrupt agent. If the lands, or any portion of them, are not of swampy character, then the United States, upon proof of this fact, will have made out their case against the accused.

The fraud upon the state is probably past remedy. It was originally laid in the swamp land act passed by the legislature in 1870. No one, perhaps, could ever have been punished for availing himself of the opportunity which that act gave him to perpetrate legal swindling. The act of 1878 was designed to put a check upon this waste of the property of the state, but it never was enforced. Gov. Thayer set the precedent of disregarding it, and the precedent was followed by Gov. Moody. If portions of the lands in which Owen dealt are not swampy, the members of the state board will be found to be the persons really most culpable, though perhaps not legally so, for it was through their action that Owen got the lands. And if the lands are wet and overflowed and would therefore belong to the state, still the members of the state board are culpable, since, under the act of 1878, they ought to have protected the state's interest in the lands.

When these cases come up for trial upon indictments that have been found, we may hope to see a thorough examination of the whole subject. But it is going to be very difficult to let light into every hole and passage of this labyrinth of fraud. Moral certainty cannot always be wrought into legal proof.

AN ANNIVERSARY.

If any man, who was sixteen years of age in 1861, was asked to-day what thing of the whole civil war was most indelibly impressed upon his memory, he would answer, we think, the vast cheer that rent the skies when Lincoln beat the long roll after the firing on Sumter, and the sight of a whole people dissolved in tears at the news that that same Lincoln had been murdered just when all the drums and pipes of war had begun to soothe his ears with the welcome air of peace. A great people, wild with the fine enthusiasm that marked the great uprising after Sumter, was something never beforeseen in this country, and it is likely may not be seen again for centuries. It was a thrilling, exalting, inspiring sight then; it is a thrilling memory even to-day. A great people, sincerely bowed down for days in grief, in deep, sincere woe, because a great citizen was dead, was never seen in this country except in the case of Lincoln, and may never be seen again. Washington was mourned by the country, but Washington was a frosty figure compared with Lincoln, at once a man of mirth, a man of tenderness, and a man of melancholy. Hamilton, Jefferson, Clay, Calhoun and Jackson were all too bitter partisans in their day to excite more than the stock party lamentations that follow politicians to the tomb. The tears over Garfield were quite as much those of rage, terror and sentimental shock as they were of grave, poignant sorrow. Grant, with all his superficial grimness of speech, hardness of manner, and absolutely self-contained nature, was more sincerely, if less sensationally mourned than Garfield; his manly patience and pluck as death slowly strangled him; his simple, kindly words of farewell to friend and foe made him more sincerely mourned than anybody would have anticipated ten years before. But Lincoln, "the Douglas, both tender and true," was mourned as no man ever was in history save William of Orange, the murdered liberator of the Netherlands.

A NEW OBJECTION.

Another phase of the interstate commerce bill begins to produce alarm and consternation in the South. It is a newly discovered feature of "nigger equality" in the bill. The first clause of the third section declares that "it shall be unlawful for any common carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, to make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, or any particular description of traffic in any respect whatsoever, or to subject any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, or any particular description of traffic, to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever."

This looks innocent enough and fair enough; but the discovery has been made in the South that the bill, closely interpreted, will secure to the colored man the same rights, privileges and immunities as to the white man. Here is a bill of rights for all men, without distinction of color, injected into an interstate commerce law. "The language," says the Atlanta Constitution, commenting on the discovery, "is clear and unmistakable, and there is no escape from its provisions." The railroads must treat all people alike, "niggers" and all. The Houston (Texas) Post says: "One is almost tempted to think that the Southern members who voted for the bill were caught with that particular kind of bait usually employed in catching suckers?"

When the commissioners are called on to define what constitutes "undue or unreasonable prejudice," or "undue or unreasonable preference," then there will probably be a protest from the South against the bill loud enough to be heard by everybody.

THE SEA SERPENT.

Prof. Richard A. Proctor, in the April number of the Forum, reviews the testimony that has been furnished during many years in regard to the sea serpent, and reaches the conclusion that there can be no doubt whatever that this animal does actually exist. The testimony is ample and circumstantial; it is supplied by many persons of undoubted veracity; and yet the world generally refuses to believe that the sea serpent is anything more than a myth and laughs at the mariner who relates any new story about having seen one.

Prof. Proctor does not believe, however, that the men who tell these stories are all easy liars or credulous fools. Just what manner of creature the animal called the sea serpent is, he does not undertake to say, since no more of it than the head, crest and neck, rising perhaps ten or twelve feet out of the water, have ever been seen. But that the sea serpent does exist, and that those which have been seen are representatives of certain gigantic marine animals at present unfamiliar or unknown to science, he believes there can be no doubt whatever. This is probably a sound judgment as to the sea serpent. The world only waits for the man who will capture one.

One Hartt, foreman in a shoe factory of N. Y. city, discharged a man whom he believed guilty of stealing. The shop was thereupon put on strike, with a demand for the reinstatement of the man discharged; the man was reinstated provisionally until the arrival of the head of the firm, who sustained his foreman and confirmed the discharge. A second strike was ordered, but the demand of the strikers this time was for the discharge of the foreman. The firm weakly consented. The discharged foreman went to Baltimore and found employment in a shoe factory. On the second day the men refused to work with him at the instigation of the district assembly No. 91, Knights of Labor, who pursued him with persecution in their determination that he should not earn his living at his legitimate trade within the awful circle of this modern inquisition, organized in the name of labor. Hartt's persecutors have been prosecuted on a charge of conspiracy, in a New York court, and it is to be hoped they will be sent to the penitentiary for conspiracy "to prevent another from exercising a lawful calling by force, threats or intimidation." The firm that originally discharged a faithful foreman for doing his duty in their interest deserve nothing better than the prayer of the people for their commercial ruin.

THE HIGH LICENSE VETO IN NEW YORK.

Yielding to the pressure of degraded politics, Gov. Hill of New York has vetoed the high license act passed by the legislature of that state. It was apparent from the first that he would do so. In his veto he makes it apparent that his chief thought is to solidify and hold to his party the great vote controlled by the viler part of the liquor trade; and in this behalf he does not hesitate to employ disingenuous and indeed positively untruthful statements. Like a cowardly demagogue, he "expressly reserves any expression of his own views on the subject of high license," but asserts that the bill "is special legislation because it applies only to the cities of New York and Brooklyn, notwithstanding the fact that in other cities and towns of the state the number of dram shops is greater than in these in proportion to population;" and he adds that the bill is a measure ingeniously devised and peculiarly framed to operate upon the two great democratic constituencies of the state, while republican cities and constituencies are exempted from its burdens."

This is not only shamelessly demagogical, but is positively untrue. The bill, before it was sent to the governor, was adjusted in its tax feature, as high license bills usually are, to cities in proportion to their population. Some days ago the New York World, the great democratic paper of the metropolis, anticipating this very objection from the governor, showed that the bill was "not open to the charge of being special or local legislation." For a general license to sell all kinds of liquors in cities having more than 400,000 inhabitants the fee was fixed at not less than $1000 and not less than $100 for wine and beer. In cities of less than 400,000 the fee for general license was not to be more than $250, and for beer and wine not less than $30. As there are only two cities in the state having more than 400,000 inhabitants each, the highest license fee could only be exacted in those two cities—New York and Brooklyn. In enacting laws of this sort it is usual to classify cities, though it is not always done. Under the new law in Pennsylvania the cities are classified for graduated taxation, and so they are in Missouri and Nebraska, but they are not in Illinois.

The World urged Gov. Hill to approve the bill as a necessary restriction of the liquor traffic, in the interest of morality and good order. It pointed out the fact that in New York there is one drink shop to every 138 of the population, and in Brooklyn one to 216—"a most unnecessary and demoralizing supply of public drinking places." And the World plainly told Gov. Hill that the bill was opposed "wholly in the interest of the liquor sellers and their political tools and allies."

This, from democratic journalism of highest authority, sufficiently answers Gov. Hill, both as to statement and argument. The governor certainly has not paid a compliment to his party by calling an act passed to restrict the liquor traffic, "in the interest of morality and good order," as the World puts it, an act to oppress democratic constituencies. Gov. Hill is a very paltry and dirty politician.

LARGE SALARIES.

The salary of a railroad president is doubtless a small item in proportion to the traffic of the road over which he presides; and yet there is a widespread feeling among the people that payment of such salaries is an injustice, since the money is taken from the people through charges which often oppress them.

The Bankers' Monthly reports that President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania system, receives a salary of $35,000 a year; President Harris, of the Northern Pacific, $25,000; President Adams, of the Union Pacific, $30,000; President Strong, of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, $25,000; the presidents of the Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, $25,000 each.

Railway charges might not, indeed, be appreciably lower if these salaries were not so high; and yet the producer who gets so meager a price for his wheat or wool naturally believes that the railroad president's dividend is too large in proportion to his own.

The Liquor Dealers' Protective Union in the city of New York recently held a meeting to protest against the high license bill and to urge the governor to veto it. In their printed call they said: "We have one friend left, and this is D. B. Hill, the governor of our state. We must show him that if he is our friend we will carry the banner with him next election." This is truly a proud position for the governor of the great state of New York.

Michael Davitt, in a speech at the recent meeting held in memory of Peter O'Neill, who was killed in the Fenian rising of 1867, said: "Cromwell reduced the Irish race to 700,000, and drove them into Connaught; yet now they number 5,000,000 at home and 20,000,000 elsewhere. Surely where Cromwell failed, Balfour and Chamberlain can not succeed. The spirit of Irish nationality is more unconquerable than ever."

Simon Cameron, who is 88 years old, is the only surviving member of Lincoln's cabinet. Had Lincoln lived until this hour he would be 78 years of age, which is the present age of Jeff. Davis, who still lingers in the body, although his fame is burnt out, while that of Lincoln burns brighter, even in the South, with the lapse of years. Hamlin is nearly 78.

The New York Herald has been hunting up the records against Kissane in Arkansas, and finds that the indictments against him for arson and murder are still in force. It was in Arkansas that the steamer Martha Washington was burned. The indictments are of nearly thirty-five years' standing. This is the villain whom Talmage thinks time has whitewashed.

John Russell Young has in preparation a history of the civil life of Gen. Grant. It is intended to be a full record of the life of Gen. Grant after he ceased to command the armies. It will begin with his first nomination for the presidency.

The Chicago Journal presents an analysis of the vote cast in that city at the recent municipal election, and concludes that the socialist party there has drawn into its ranks nearly one-half the democrats who voted for Cleveland in 1884.

Jefferson Davis recently bought a new shot gun, and frequently goes out to shoot rabbits. If he would shoot still more with that gun and less with his mouth the country would not be unhappy about it.

The spring is unusually backward all over the country. Journals of all sections speak of it. Here in Oregon it is from four to six weeks behind time and as yet shows no sign of making the time up.

A. P. Hammond, postmaster at Ashland, telegraphs: "THE OREGONIAN of the 12th states that I have resigned. I have not resigned, nor do I intend to resign."

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS—RESOLUTIONS ABOUT THE AMENDMENT.

The second days' session of the district W. C. T. U. convention was called to order at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Devotions were led by Mrs. Walker of Forest Grove.

The plan of work presented by the committee was carried after animated discussions on various topics.

The afternoon session was led in prayer and scripture reading by Mrs. Casto, whose remarks were very opportune concerning the work in which the union is engaged as being in accordance with the divine will and through his blessing it can hope to succeed. Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. G. Ross of East Portland, for all the state temperance organizations and upon every worker, that a public sentiment may be established that will carry and sustain the law.

Mrs. M. E. Hoxter then took the chair and Mrs. A. R. Riggs moved that the president open the discussion on capital and labor, which was very animated. Mrs. Hoxter said she had visited the mile-long manufactories along the banks of the Merrimac, where the mills are controlled by corporations and no amelioration of the condition of the operatives can come except through law. It is impossible for individual operatives to attempt to better themselves without working hardship to all. If any one does extra work the next time the bosses hold a council they will compel all to do the same amount without raising their wages. Then they go on a strike, but capital can live without the workers better than the latter can live without work. Some of these men use strong drink, and what should go for food and clothing goes for liquor. The interest of the working classes is identical with our own.

Mrs. Miller had learned that some laboring people had become prejudiced to the prohibition amendment because they had been informed, mistakenly, that such a law would open the doors of private citizens to search.

Mrs. Robb remarked that there are two classes of working men's organizations; one is socialistic, the other is not. Master Workman Powderly has said that no drinking or liquor selling man can be a member of their order.

Temperance literature was presented by Mrs. Driggs and also by the state president, Mrs. A. R. Riggs, and others.

RESOLUTIONS.

The committee on resolutions presented the following, which were accepted:

Resolved, 1. That we urge the Woman's Christian Temperance Unions throughout the district to take advantage of the privileges afforded by the Woman's Industrial Exchange of Portland as a means of aiding the state work.

2. That we believe that work for the constitutional amendment should be entered upon at once and prosecuted with vigor.

3. That a vote of thanks be tendered the ladies of the Portland Woman's Christian Temperance Union for their kindness and hospitality. Also to Rev. Miller, the Evangelical minister, for the use of his hall during the convention.

MRS. C. E. SHIPLEY, Chairman.

The last session was very animated and several of the gentlemen friends of the cause were present, notably Rev. J. W. Webb, of Salem; Mr. Williams, of North Yamhill; Prof. Miller and Col. John Adair, of Portland, all of whom made encouraging remarks. The union was dismissed, with temperance doxologies and benedictions, to meet at Astoria next October.

THE STAGE.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—Another good house last evening attested the readiness with which the public always receives clever artists in comedy characterizations. The comedy drama "Otto, a German," was given for the first time in Portland by Mr. and Mrs. George S. Knight, and while the play is rather of the quiet order, it affords admirable opportunity for the delineation of Mr. Knight's specialty in the title role.

Otto, a young German fresh from the fatherland, stumbles into the very bosom of a family the head of which has amassed a fortune by the use of money left him in trust. The villain of the play, learning by chance the old man's secret, uses it to further his own ends and advance his fortunes. It is through his instrumentality that Otto has been innocently introduced into the old man's employ. His native shrewdness soon tells him something is wrong between his employer and the man who has him in his power, and he determines to find it out. At last he unravels the secret, and learns that his employer's wealth rightfully belongs to him, (Otto,) but having fallen in love with one of his employer's daughters he generously destroys the proofs that would establish his title, releases the old man from the tyranny under which he had suffered, gets the girl he loves, and all ends as it should.

Mr. Knight, in the role of Otto, gave a most artistic and sympathetic rendition of the simple minded, honest, true hearted young German lad, and in his smooth, easy dialect and humorous Teutonicisms, was irresistibly amusing. His style is easy, and indeed the peculiar charm of his work was its quiet effectiveness. There was no straining after effect, but his dialect as well as his acting were remarkable for their simple naturalness. There was a poetic and dramatic delicacy about his recitation of the "Water Mill" that alone would establish his claims as an artist, and the parody on "Casabianca" evoked roars of laughter. All his work was so cleverly and effectively done that it could not fail to please.

Mrs. Knight, as the gay and frolicksome Lizzette, is as clever in her way as her husband. She sang the "Wasserfall" with him in capital style, and gained an encore, and in her scenes with Otto throughout she showed a thoroughly artistic appreciation of the several situations.

The Dick Freely of Edward Foy was a manly rendition, and his jingle of plays met with an encore.

Casper Becks, by Frank David, was well done. He was altogether the cool, self-possessed villain of the play.

One of the best and neatest bits of work was that of Miss Rosita Worrell as Mrs Maria Freely. Her tongue ran incessantly, and she was very amusing in her garrulity. The remainder of the cast was acceptable.

The waits between acts, however, are too long. The audience gets somewhat tired, and when the curtain falls finally the hour is too late. To-night, "Over the Garden Wall."

WILDER PEASE'S BENEFIT.—The demand for seats still continues, and there is every indication that the capacity of the Casino will be taxed to hold all who desire to witness "The Mikado" by the amateurs. All the boxes have been sold, and even the seats in the gallery are going off rapidly.

A LONG RUNNING ACCOUNT.

In Judge Shattuck's court yesterday the case of David Robertson vs. P. Leach was on trial before a jury. The complaint sets up, first, that Leach purchased goods to the value of $237 02 from Foster & Robertson, second, that on or about October, 1885, Foster & Robertson loaned him $8318 33; third, that Foster & Robertson, July 1, 1885, rented defendant 200 acres of land along the bank of the Willamette river, in S. 30, T. 1 S., R. 1 E., for $60 a month, and that defendant owes for rent $2230. Plaintiff alleges that these claims were assigned to him by Foster & Robertson, and were kept on the books of the firm as one account. That the defendant paid on this account $7605 21, leaving a balance now due, with interest and so on, of $3074 85, wherefore plaintiff prays judgment.

It appears the plaintiff and defendant had business relations together, extending over a period of several years, and the principal dispute seems to be about the land leased by plaintiff to defendant, which is situated between here and Milwaukie. Leach established and ran a foundry there. During the time he alleges he sold lots for the plaintiff and transacted other business sufficient to counteract any claim of plaintiff. The trial will be continued with to-day.

"DAVID, THE SHEPHERD BOY."

The cantata of "David the Shepherd Boy" is to be presented in oratorio next week by Mrs. Wm. Wetzell, Mrs. David Goodsell, Mr. E. C. Martin, Mr. J. P. Owens and other soloists of ability and a well trained chorus of 100 voices, who have been for weeks past under the careful training of Prof. A. Dobbins, who has conducted the cantata in several Eastern cities, including Somerville and Gloucester, Mass. The cantata, which is the musical masterpiece of Geo. F. Root, vividly portrays the life of the son of Jesse as a shepherd boy with his father's flocks, on the battle field, at King Saul's palace, in exile, and when crowned king of Israel. A children's chorus helps to make this excellent production a rich musical treat. The cantata will be given on Tuesday next in East Portland and Wednesday evening in the tabernacle, and, that all may attend, the price of admission has been placed at 50 cents. Tickets may now be obtained at the stores of D. W. Prentice, J. K. Gill & Co. and W. B. Allen.

FROM A MANUFACTURER.

PORTLAND, April 13.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Your editorial in this morning's issue alluding to the proposition presented to the board of trade of this city by Mr. Clapp, of Oakland, Cal., in regard to the establishment of a rolling mill and nail factory here suits the occasion. Why was this proposition so coldly received and quickly done away with? Perhaps some of the wholesale dealers that "buy and sell" in this line imagine that they would lose a little direct trade should such an industry take root here. The establishing of such an institution means the employment of a large number of men whose earnings would be spent in our midst. Capitalists here put up fine blocks of buildings and people say: "What a credit it is to them, and how it helps to beautify the city." On the other hand, how much better, if, instead of erecting such costly buildings, some of the money they would invest in manufactories, thus giving encouragement to the skilled labor here and others to come. The sum necessary to start the industry in question ($35,000) is comparatively small and it ought not to be difficult to get the amount subscribed by a few of our capitalists.

A Matrimonial Administration.

Washington Special Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

The president found a wife after he had become president. The secretary of the interior went off and married likewise. Now the secretary of state is thought to be of a marrying disposition. Their intellectual climax is to marry, and the wondering country is called to give its homage to Mrs. Cleveland as the only perfect woman who has yet been in the White house, excepting Lady Washington.

ENCOURAGING TRAVEL BY OCEAN

A publication issued by the Chicago & Rock Island road represented here by Mr Charles ... entitled "The Western Trail" prints a good many items of interest, among which we find one headed "Between Portland and San Francisco" from which we quote

"A delightful journey for the tourist is that which includes a trip in one of the splendid ocean steamers of the Pacific Coast Steamship company or of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company These vessels are nearly new and are large fast iron steamers They leave San Francisco and Portland every fifth day running through in about 72 hours making no stop except at Astoria. A trip on any of them is a treat as the accommodations are first class in every particular. The table is not excelled and the service is all that could be desired The sail between Astoria and Portland on the Columbia and Willamette rivers a distance of 100 miles affords a fine opportunity for viewing scenery which is far more beautiful than the palisades of the Hudson

"Travelers from Europe or points east or south of Chicago can purchase tickets via the Famous Albert Lea or via The Great Rock Island Route can take the Northern, or Short Line or the route referred to above. The ocean trip is one that should be tried to be appreciated"

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

LARGE REAL ESTATE TRANSFER.—The lot on the southeast corner of Fourth and Washington streets, 60 feet on Fourth and 100 feet on Washington, was sold yesterday through Hennelly, Flynn & Co, of this city, for the snug sum of $24,000 cash. The property was owned by Mrs Alf R. Kelly, nee Fannie Raleigh, formerly of this city, but at present a resident of San Francisco to Ted Holman and Councilman Wm Fieldner. This sale, with one exception, is the largest individual real estate transfer that has taken place in Portland for several months, and the price paid, although considered reasonable, shows a decided upward tendency in business property Immediately after the sale was effected Messrs Hennelly, Flynn & Co offered the lucky purchasers $500 cash for the privilege of taking the same property at $24,000 within four months, but the offer was declined by the purchasers on the ground that they could do better This makes the sixth transfer effected by this firm during the past two months, which shows two things—first, that property is going up, and secondly, that it pays to advertise

FINE COTTAGE.—Bids for a beautiful cottage, to be erected on Morrison street, near Twelfth, for Mr Edward Holman were opened at the office of Otto Kleemann, architect, with the following result Carpenter work—R. Laman & Co, $3268, George Gardner, $33 5 E J Sheahan, $3750 F Irving, $3800 John Becker, $3875 Work & Chedan, $3900 E. J Payne, $3900, E. J Woodworth, $3979, E A. Walter, $4110 F J Fuller, $4130, H Avey, $4225 A. Muir, $4319, R. K. Ronney, $4875 Painting—Cleveland Paint Co, $280, Berger & Bock, $295, Burke & Grady, $324 Martin, $423 Plumbing—A. W Ofeld, $219 John C Brian, $375, Gardner & Co, $395 Johnson $410 Donderberg, $410. Cement floors—Allebach & Browning, $175 The building will have a finished basement with electric bells, speaking tubes, and the finest kind of plumbing, with a boys' playroom in the attic of 38x48, suitable for a gymnasium.

WORKING MODELS IN COURT.—The case of Robert Bragg against the city for infringement of patent was on trial yesterday in the U. S circuit court, and the case will probably be concluded to-day Mr. Bragg had a model of his invention in court, and so did Mr Coffee have a very fine one of his The only witnesses examined yesterday were Mr Coffee and Mr Bragg The workings of the machines were explained to the court by Mr. J H. Miller, of San Francisco, a well known patent lawyer, who has been retained to assist in defending the city Should Mr Coffee succeed in establishing the fact that his machine is not an infringement on Mr Bragg's patent, he has a valuable piece of property in it.

BAMBOO PLANTS.—Several years since Judge O N Denny, while consul-general at Shanghai, sent over a lot of bamboo plants which were intended for the city park. They were divided around among a number of gentlemen of horticultural tastes to be cared for till such time as the park was ready to receive them. Among others ex Councilman Hewett took some of the plants These have been handed over to the park and are growing there finely The others have evidently been forgotten by the parties to whom they were intrusted The park is being improved, and now will be a good time to turn in the balance of the bamboos

STEEL RAILS.—The ship W H. Starbuck, which has been discharging cargo at the foot of C street, will go across the river to-day to discharge 2806 steel rails, 700 car wheels, 532 kegs of spikes and 1480 bundles of fish plates for the O & C R. R. This railroad has been getting along by degrees till the greater part of the road is laid with steel rails. Those who travel over it will be glad when the rails are all of steel, for after riding and jolting over the rough iron rails it is like getting into Elysium when the cars roll on the smooth steel and go spinning along with a drowsy hum like a "sleeping" top

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED.—Judge Sawyer yesterday announced his decision in the United States circuit court in the case of the United States vs Griswold, on error from the district court The judgment of the district court was affirmed If Mr Griswold is a pauper, as he claims, it can make but little difference to him whether the claim against him is commuted or not. But if he has any property cached away he knows full well that Mr E. T. Dowell will do his best to find it and to collect the balance of $20,000 due him as informer out of it.

VANCOUVER MILITIA.—Thursday evening the Vancouver militia company met to enroll six new members. Recruiting, says the Independent, has been very favorably carried on for the past two weeks, some of our most prominent citizens joining. The company is now a success, and is about ready to be mustered. The boys feel very jubilant over the fact that this will be the first militia company inaugurated under the administration of Gov Semple, the commissions being the first he will sign in that capacity.

TO BE TRIED TO-DAY.—The case of Al Slader, charged with robbing Isaac Allen of $110, has been set for trial to-day in Judge Stearns's court May Dorner, Lizzie Faulis John Faulis and Florence Fallon are also indicted with Slader for the same transaction, but their trials will be held separately. Allen, who is an old farmer, was relieved of his money while asleep up-stairs over a dive which Faulis kept at Front and Main streets, since closed up The Dorner woman is one of the state's witnesses.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—Sunday while Lewis Spencer, the 14-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Ira E Spencer, of Lewisville, Lewis county, Washington territory, was out hunting with a companion, he fell from a log and his gun was discharged, lodging a charge of fine shot in his left arm, near the shoulder. His companion ran to the house for assistance, but before his return the poor boy died The main artery was cut and he had bled to death The funeral took place yesterday

POLICE CAPTAIN AS PHYSICIAN.—Since Saturday last the police have made but seven or eight arrests, all for drunkenness Last night there were three cases of delirium tremens in the big cell, being attended to by the captain on watch who in such instances acts as doctor According to Senator Watts, had the bill regulating the practice of medicine passed at the last session of the legislature, police captains would not be allowed to prescribe for sick inebriates.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.—Judge Shattuck yesterday denied the motion for a new trial in the case of J T Bowles vs Benjamin Sunderland and gave judgment on the verdict in favor of the defendant Bowles sued Sunderland to recover damages on account of some of his cows being hurt on a barbed wire fence owned by Sunderland, and Sunderland beat the case

TO BE TRIED NEXT TERM.—Ed Clayton, the Allen & Lewis burglar will not have a second trial until the next term of the state circuit court, or until a new jury is drawn Fay, his partner, and Harry Prindle, under indictment on two or more counts of embezzling money from George La Rocque, will also be tried next term

DIRECTORS CHOSEN.—Tuesday evening a meeting was held by the stockholders of the Astoria Loan and Building Association, when the following named gentlemen were chosen directors J P Dickinson, J H D Gray, F R Stokes, E A Noyes, A. S Reed, J Q A Bowlby C S Wright, J E Ferguson, J. R Gilstrap

APPOINTMENTS.—Gov Pennoyer has made, during the week, the following appointments of notaries public H B Hendricks, Fossil, Ward S Stevens, W. H Adams Portland J Nat. Hudson, Burns, S Huelat, East Portland, A C Smith, E R. Skipworth, Joseph, W R Benjamin, Roseburg.

AN OLD GRAVE.—In the Hillside cemetery is a grave which is doubtless the oldest marked of any north of San Francisco, says the Astorian. The memorial is a sandstone slab, on which is recorded that he who sleeps beneath bore the name of McTavish, and that he was buried there in 1811

SWAMP LAND ANGELS INDICTED

"HEN" OWEN "BILL" BARNHART AND SPECIAL AGENT ANKENY IN THE TOILS

The U S. grand jury, which was discharged on Tuesday, found an indictment, covering 189 pages of legal cap, against H C Owen, W H Barnhart and R V. Ankeny, charging them with conspiracy to defraud the United States of large tracts of land situated in the state of Oregon Messrs Barnhart and Owen are well known to readers of THE OREGONIAN as swamp land grabbers and Ankeny as a special land agent who joined with them in combination to secure as much land as they could and make as much out of it as possible. The first two are now in the city, prepared to furnish bail on this charge in the sum of $3000 each The whereabouts of Ankeny is not known At latest accounts he was somewhere at the East, in a paralyzed condition His partners have their heads bowed down a studying, and look as if they were about paralyzed

In addition to the above mentioned indictment, the grand jury also found three separate indictments on three counts each and one on twelve counts against Barnhart for forgery of swamp land proofs and uttering and transmitting the same Mr Barnhart has furnished bail in the sum of $4000 on these charges, his bondsman being A. Bush, of Salem

It was supposed by some that Representative Felton, of California, might be implicated in this swamp land steal, as he is known to have invested a great deal of money in these lands but after fully investigating the matter, the grand jury arrived at the conclusion that he had been made the victim of a confidence game put up by Owen and Barnhart, by which he had been induced to furnish money for their operating expenses, which he has not been able to get back. Mr. Felton's attorney states that he will come up here and relinquish his claims to the dry lands occupied by settlers, which have been "swamped" since they were settled on If he does this he will give relief to many honest men

THE BOARDING HOME FOR WOMEN

Yesterday's Evening Telegram has the following timely editorial upon the subject of establishing a "boarding home for women" in Portland

There has never been a work undertaken or proposed in this city that is more worthy of encouragement than the effort now being made to establish a boarding house, which shall be in every sense a home, for women and girls who earn their own livelihood. Young men, as a rule, are not helpless, they need not be homeless, since the initiative in home building is by common usage in their hands. Young women dependent upon their own efforts are not helpless or homeless except in the degree that meager wages that custom imposes for their handiwork induces. To the extent that they are without the comforts of home because of this state of affairs, they are worthy objects of systematized, organized assistance, not in any degree in the line of charity, but in a way that will insure for them the privileges of a home and its domestic and social associations, for what they can earn Intelligent endeavor put forth in this field promises a greater return in actual and relative benefit than any other work now asking the countenance and assistance of considerate philanthropy Experience has already proven that the women of Portland, who enjoy the shelter and protection of homes that are provided by the loving care of husbands and fathers, have hearts open to sympathy for their sisters less fortunately situated, yet who are nobly and cheerfully struggling to work out the problem of "what shall we eat and wherewithal shall we be clothed" for themselves. Practical endeavor carefully engineered cannot go amiss in this direction. There is no possibility that the plan proposed will fail, and in due time a quiet home, self-sustaining in the main will open its doors to the women of this city with a promise of comfort, which their means have heretofore not been able to secure for them in Portland

A DOG FALLS FOUR STORIES.

At noon yesterday, while the painters in the shop of O Leary & Arnondts, adjoining Labbe's block on Second street, were eating their luncheon, they were startled by a crash, caused by some heavy body falling on the roof. On rushing out into the alley between the buildings a handsome red Irish setter was found lying on the ground in a helpless condition. Mr. Arnondts's first thought was that it was raining cats and dogs, but not seeing any more canines or any felines coming down, he concluded that he was mistaken. Investigation showed that the dog had jumped from the roof of Labbe's building. The animal belongs to D Loring, who rooms in the upper story of the building, and has been accustomed to run about on the roof. There is a tolerably high wall which divides the roof in two parts, and the dog has often jumped over the wall, and it is supposed that he took the fire wall for another division wall and so jumped into space The poor animal was carefully carried into the paint shop and placed on some rugs. He was unable to move and it was thought could not live long Mr Loring was out of town and he will be very sorry to hear of the accident to his dog, which is a valuable one.

BECAUSE A GIRL SLAPPED HIM.

A GERMAN DOCTOR ATTEMPTS TO TAKE HIS LIFE WITH MORPHINE

Dr G Gleim, a German physician about 50 years of age, who has been practicing in this city for some time, attempted suicide yesterday morning by taking a dose of morphine, which, not accomplishing its deadly work soon enough, he roused a roommate and sent him out for some cheap license whisky to make a sure thing of it. The messenger summoned a physician and Mr Gleim was yanked out of his bed and started on a six mile go-as-you please tramp around his room. After an hour or two of this he ceased to long for oblivion and aided and abetted the endeavors of his friends to get the morphine and whisky out of him He has been paying rather marked attention to a lady who could not reciprocate his passion and who a day or two since slapped his face for being too fresh He had prepared a note to leave behind, telling her that he loved her and expressing a hope that she might be forgiven This was intended to wring her soul with anguish when he was gone But he is likely to tarry for some time yet, and the only manner in which he can cause her anguish will be to devote himself to some other women

STRANGERS WITH THE USUAL HALLUCINATION COMMITTED TO THE ASYLUM

P A W Anderson, mentioned yesterday as insane, was examined yesterday by Drs Strong and Saylor and ordered committed to the asylum Anderson is a blacksmith, 47 years of age and a native of Sweden All that is known of him is that he came here two weeks since from Washington territory He believes people are after him to poison him. He was taken to Salem on the afternoon train by Deputy Sheriff T Hawks.

Edward Winters, another patient, was also taken up to the asylum Winters is a German, 52 years of age, married, and came here recently from California. The cause of his insanity is epilepsy He was arrested near Bennett's place, in the vicinity of Mount Tabor Winters is also afflicted with an idea that some one wants to poison him, and also thinks he is full of bullets He has been in an asylum before

MINING DEPARTMENT.

Observations upon Mining Development in the Northwest.

Platinum in Oregon—Copper in Josephine County—Warning to Smelters—Portland's Mining Population—Growing Interest.

NATIVE SOURCES OF PLATINUM.

An inquiry comes from the East for sources of the metal platinum. A New York state dental manufacturing firm uses it in their fabrications, and, finding the available supply getting more and more scanty, they have addressed a Portland assayer on the subject.

There is not what may be called a promising source of this valuable substance in the United States, though a quantity has been annually got from the alluvial gold washings of the California mines, and a still smaller quantity from the Southern Oregon mines. It is a metal whose great specific gravity—over 21—causes it to remain with the gold particles in the pan, rocker and sluice. In certain places in Southern Oregon an exceptionally high proportion of grains of platinum is thus found, reaching in exceptional places one-tenth, one-sixth, and very rarely one-third of the weight of the gold. Its color is between silver and lead, and its value, when in a nearly pure state, is something like $115 per pound avoirdupois, while gold is worth $301 per pound. The most of the platinum found in this country contains iridium, osmium, rhodium, etc., which give the alloys increased hardness and at the same time reduce their value largely. Platiniridium, the commonest native alloy, usually brings $2 per ounce, which is very low considering the value of its components. The same firm who ask for platinum extend their inquiries to iridium, of which the same remarks are true, viz: that it is exceedingly scarce in the Northwest so far as known, being found in very small quantities in alluvial gold washings, exists invariably in combination with some other of the platinum group of metals, and when found has no recognized standard of value, such as would tempt the miner to seek for it. What little there is of either metal we owe to the placer gold mining industry, and when it becomes a thing of the past the platinum metals must become scarce. Whenever the original matrix of platinum and iridium is found there will be hope of their becoming of importance to miners; but as long as they remain merely incidental to gold extraction from placers they cannot rise to importance. In conclusion we may mention that the price of manufactured platinum in New York is $6 per troy ounce; of iridium "fused" $10, and of pure metal $2, or equal to gold. Iridosmine, or osmiridium, the very hard, white, metallic substance found in placer gold in Southern Oregon, and especially about Cow creek, is worth about $2 per ounce.

COPPER IN JOSEPHINE COUNTY.

Mr. Jacob Miller, who resides now in East Portland, owns the Monarch and Ella copper claims, on the Illinois river, seventy-five miles below Kerbyville. These veins were discovered and prospected in the early "sixties," contemporaneously with the Queen of Bronze copper mine near by. The company who controlled the Ellen set up a furnace on the property and floated the boilers, etc., down the Illinois on rafts, and, altogether, went to an expense of $20,000 or more, which was an entire loss. Mr. Miller describes the ore as occurring in four parallel lodes in serpentine and diorite, three of them containing principally chalcopyrite (copper pyrites) and the other only black oxide of copper or melaconite. They are forty or more feet wide on the surface in places, and two of them are traceable on the surface for a distance of 4000 and 6000 feet, respectively. The ore extracted assays 22 per cent. copper and $8 in gold per ton. A number of prospecting drifts and shafts have been run in past years, and a very great quantity of ore is in sight. Taken together with the Queen of Bronze and the other lodes known in Josephine county, the conclusion is that there are immense resources in copper in Southern Josephine, which will, beyond a doubt, be made exceedingly productive whenever the price of the metal reaches a figure to justify the working of these mammoth lodes.

A TRIBUTE TO HARTSFELD.

The prospect that a number of associations and individuals in various parts of the new ore districts of the Northwest will this year engage in smelting lead and other ores has induced this paper to publish in late issues matter bearing upon the general subject of smelting, and we have enunciated principles which, if carefully attended to by prospective smelters, will save much loss of time and money. We have mentioned several fruitful causes of failure in this pursuit, and have left others to be inferred. We have now to caution business men and miners against the purchase of untried or unsuitable machinery. In particular do we desire to warn readers against certain patented apparatus for smelting which goes by the name of the Hartsfeld water jacket smelting furnace. Readers familiar with Cœur d'Alene matters cannot fail to remember the Hartsfeld furnace which was erected at Milo, near Wardner, and essayed to smelt ore from the Sierra Nevada and other claims, and which after three trial runs which, owing to "freezes" and other causes apparently beyond the control of the superintending metallurgist, succumbed to the inevitable and was abandoned, at considerable loss to its proprietors and great disappointment to the neighboring miners. To be sure there were many extraneous and insuperable obstacles to its successful running—obstacles which have received attention in these columns before, but the fact remains that the Milo furnace could not smelt because it was not adapted to smelt. To recount reasons is superfluous, but it is the obvious duty of a metallurgist to warn people from investing in a lead blast furnace that carries no permanent lead bath in the crucible; that has no syphon tap for the extraction of the fluid bullion; that narrows at the throat thus producing a too high temperature at the feed door because of the necessary condensation of the gases; that is built with inverted boshes to avoid the formation of "sows"—that in short sets the well known and approved principles of practical metallurgy at defiance in order to attain impracticable and chimerical ends. The Hartsfeld furnace in common with nine-tenths of the "processes" and inventions which promise to revolutionize the extraction of metals is the invention of an obviously ignorant brain possessed of some inventive skill, and unfortunately possessed of sufficient audacity and "nerve" to get the invention into attempted use. Almost the first firm to adopt the apparatus was Gassert, Black & Co., of Cooke City, Dakota, to whom a letter of inquiry was sent by the writer, eliciting the following response:

COOKE CITY, April 5.

In answer to your inquiry we must say that the Hartsfeld furnace is a total failure, and Hartsfeld, together with his menial agents, a set of notorious frauds and impostors, which statement we have published for the last year, and they dare not refute, for we can prove all we say and more. Trusting that you will not allow yourself or any other legitimate mining man to be taken in by those infernal frauds, we remain yours truly,

GASSERT, BLACK, & CO.

This firm ought to be fairly conversant with the merits and demerits of the thing they condemn, since they went to the expense of setting up two Hartsfeld furnaces of fifty and fifteen tons respectively. The above is ample warning; THE OREGONIAN, in publishing this much, has done its duty by the mining public, and if anyone in the Northwest invests a single dollar in the Hartsfeld patent he will deserve to be fleeced.

PORTLANDERS WHO HAVE MONEY IN MINES.

Of the large number of Portland people interested pecuniarily in mines, the following is a partial list. It makes no pretensions to completeness, and its chief value consists in the proof it presents that the vast mineral resources of the Pacific Northwest are not entirely disregarded by the people of its chief city. The extent of the investment hitherto made in mines it is not desirable to ascertain, the sole object being to find out what proportion of investments have been made of late, and especially since the phenomenal discoveries at Cœur d'Alene first gave rise to the boom which mining is undoubtedly experiencing at present. We may say in reference to the worth of these investments that attempts have been made to arrive at the value of the mines in question; but such are the disagreements of even the most unprejudiced and uninterested observers concerning the value of properties that it is felt that such an estimate would be futile. If we were to reckon these various mines, locations and claims at the figures set by their, in many cases, enthusiastic owners, the total would mount into the tens of millions. It may seem a bold statement, but it is doubtful if three millions of dollars could buy the properties thus held, and considering the rate at which approved properties are now enhancing in value, it may be that three times as much would not when the boom is fully matured.

The most important fact in connection with this list is that the greater number of the properties mentioned (of which many are worthless, no doubt), were secured by their present owners within the twelve months past, and dealings in mines and claims are becoming constantly more active. There are a surprising number of men now in the midst of preparations for departure to the mines, going in a majority of cases to the northern districts, but many also to Southern Oregon, the Cascades and wherever fancy takes them, and the probability is that before six months are past there will be five times as many mining claims owned in Portland as at present. Among those residents of Portland and East Portland who own mining property are:

S. G. Reed, capitalist. Principal owner of the Connor creek gold quartz mine, Baker county, Or.; director Portland Reduction Works.

James Steel, president Merchants' National bank. Principal owner of the Bonanza gold quartz mine and mill, Baker county; the Fanny quartz mine, Trail creek, Cœur d'Alene; part owner of the Dry gulch placer mine and ditch, near Murray, Cœur d'Alene; and of certain copper claims in the Seven Devils' country, Idaho; president of the Portland Reduction Works.

F. J. Carrel, civil engineer and capitalist. Interested in the Green or Sugar Pine mine and the St. Peter's mine, Southern Oregon; manager Portland Reduction Works.

W. M. Ladd, banker. President Keystone Mining Company, of Grant county. (W. M. Ladd, J. F. Watson and associates.)

B. Goldsmith, capitalist. Owns in the Sierra Nevada and Richmond silver mines at Wardner, Idaho.

V. DeLashmutt, banker. Principal owner of the Stemwinder and other claims, Wardner, Idaho.

C. W. Knowles, hotel keeper. Owner in the Sierra Nevada, Stemwinder and other claims, Wardner, Idaho.

C. P. Church, speculator. Owns in the Sierra Nevada, Crown Point and other claims in Cœur d'Alene.

Joseph Watson, liquor dealer, of Watson & Bigne, proprietors of the Sumpter valley mine and mill, Blue mountains, Or.

John Bigne, capitalist, of Watson & Bigne.

W. G. Jenne, assayer. Interested in lead-silver claims near Mullan, Cœur d'Alene.

W. B. Honeyman. Principal owner Tyler and Viola lead-silver mines, Wardner, Idaho.

A. P. and H. Ankeny, capitalists. Owner of the Sterling hydraulic placer mine, Jackson county, Or.

James H. Fisk, assayer. Interested in sundry claims as agent or proprietor.

C. W. Cornelius, theatrical manager. Principal owner of the Gold Hill Mining Company's property, Gold Hill, Southern Oregon.

W. C. Wilson, capitalist, East Portland. Principal owner Green Mountain gold quartz mine and extensions, Starve-Out, near Canyonville, Douglas county, Or.

Jonathan Bourne, Jr., capitalist. Director Green Mountain Mining Company.

H. A. Moss, O. R. & N. Co. Director Green Mountain Mining Company.

C. H. Prescott, O. R. & N. Co. Director Green Mountain Mining Company.

F. Clarno, attorney. Owner of extension to Green Mountain mine, Southern Oregon.

Mr. Hazeltine, dealer in hardware, agricultural implements, etc. Owner of quartz claims, Tuolumne county, Cal.

Jacob Miller, East Portland. Principal owner of Ella, Monarch and neighboring copper claims, Illinois river, Josephine county, and gold quartz claim near Glendale, Or.

Dr. M. A. Flinn, East Portland. Owner of quartz property in Blue river mining district, Lane county, Or.

C. M. Idleman, attorney. President of Eureka Quartz Mining Company, of Blue river district, Lane county, Or.

Frank B. Mason. Director of Eureka Mining Company.

Job Angel, East Portland. President and manager of Grand Ronde Hydraulic Mining Company, Union county, Or.

J. Frank Watson, of Smith Bros. & Watson, iron works. Member of the Keystone Mining Company, Grant county, Or.

Mr. Hudson, grocer, East Portland. With W. J. Worley, owns three quartz and one placer claim, Coyote creek, Josephine county, Or.

Dr. G. H. Chance, dentist. President of White Bull Mining Company, Santiam, Or.

A. J. Knott, capitalist. Owns, with associates, claims in the Bohemia district, Lane county, Or.

D. McKercher, bookseller. Owner of a five-stamp gold quartz mill and other properties, Allentown, Pine creek. President and director Margaret Mining Company's properties, near Murray Cœur d'Alene.

Dr. E. O. Smith, dentist. Vice president and manager Margaret Mining Company, of Eagle creek, Cœur d'Alene, and other property.

W. J. Hawkins, capitalist. Manager and principal owner Dry Gulch placer mine and ditch, Murray, I. T.

W. S. Ladd, banker. President Portland Reduction Works.

S. M. Keenan, East Portland. Owns, with Kiessling, Daniels, Sutherland and others, sundry quartz claims and prospects in Josephine county, Oregon.

H. W. Dilg, locksmith. Quartz claim near Susanville, Oregon, and placer mine in Montana.

Mr. Hughes, real estate agent. Placer mine and ditch, Wolf creek, Josephine county, Oregon.

E. J. Jeffery, contractor. Lead-silver claim, Colville.

Pfunder Brothers, druggists. The Portland lead-silver mine and other claims, Colville.

David Goodsell, attorney. Owns in Stem-Winder mine, Wardner, and with Mr. Heller, placer claim in Cœur d'Alene.

H. B. Morse. Interest in placer, Southern Oregon.

A. Marriott, jeweler. Interested with Watson and Bigne in Sumpter Valley quartz mine and mill, Baker county, Oregon.

THE SULLIVAN MINE.

The Wardner News of a late date says of a celebrated mine on the south fork of the Cœur d'Alene: "We paid a visit to the Sullivan, as we desired to see at 700 feet in depth and at over 400 feet in, the exact developments the lowest tunnel of the three makes since we were last in the mine. This tunnel is the most interesting feature of the mine, as it not only assures permanency and an increase of richness in the ore to the end as depth is attained, but it gives character and value to all the adjacent mines and locations in the vicinity. The tunnel in the Sullivan we are now speaking of is certainly as wonderful in mining history as it is satisfactory to the owners and the people of the district. Ore of high grade was struck at about sixty feet from the mouth, which continued to increase in character to the end, and the body of ore, as it shows itself to-day, is simply marvelous—large bodies of chrystalized lead which yield most beautiful specimens of nature's handiwork; rich, too, as beautiful carbonate, and sulphurets equally rich and beautiful, and first-class galena. The width of the vein at this depth has not been ascertained by cross-cutting, but in the tunnel above it is thirty feet wide and from the first that has been the average width of the vein. There is no reason to apprehend it will be less in the lowest tunnel. As it stands it excites the admiration of all mining men who inspect it. In the tunnel above we may state some remarkably fine specimens of ore have recently been taken out which carried a large proportion of native silver. Taken all in all, at every point the Sullivan is one of the greatest mines in America, and as a matter of history in production, it is much to be regretted it cannot be worked at present to its full capacity in yield. The world then would scarcely believe the figures. All we have said of the Sullivan we might repeat in connection with the Bunker Hill, the sister mine on the opposite side of the creek and owned by the same parties. In this mine the lowest tunnel is about the same depth and length as in the Sullivan and at every point shows the same consistency in width of vein and the same richness of ore. It will be a proud day for Wardner, for the whole Northwest indeed, when these two mines can be worked to their utmost capacity.

UNION COUNTY MINES.

La Grande Gazette.

The mines to the south of La Grande will be thoroughly prospected this summer, and before snow flies again it will probably be demonstrated that many of the properties will be paying ones.

Pine creek will receive due attention from interested ones. The company represented by Mr. Nenner will erect a twenty-stamp mill with the necessary adjuncts. This will be no experiment, as Mr. Luce, the superintendent, has ere this determined the requirements for treating the ores of the camp, especially the ores found in the mines owned by the company. When the mine is in operation it will be easier to determine the value of this camp. That there will be many paying properties is asserted by many who should know what they are talking about.

The Eagle district will receive a new impulse from the purchase of the Clough and Duncan mine by the California men.

Development work still continues in the Wallowa district and soon good property will no doubt be uncovered among the numerous locations that have been made.

The people will await the beginning of operations in the Grand Ronde Hydraulic Mining Company's claim with much interest. One of the enthusiastic stockholders says they will take out money by the mule load. We are glad to note that the company is going ahead in a systematic manner and mean business. Mr. Angell, the manager, is a rustler and keeps moving.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINES.

Ashland Tidings.

A handsome nugget, worth about $110, was picked up at the hydraulic mines of Lynch & Smith on Wagner creek, a few days since.

Davison & Shearer are piping at their hydraulic mines on Coleman creek with a fair head of water and good prospects. They have a good claim.

H. K. Anderson is running the '49 mines, as usual at this season, with plenty of water, and will of course make a profitable clean-up when dry weather comes.

Jacksonville Times.

Simmons, Decker & Co. and Wimer & Sons of Waldo district still have plenty of water and are making the most of it.

J. Klippel of Poorman's creek has washed off a large piece of ground this season, and will not finish cleaning up before the middle of June.

E. Roten has discovered a new ledge in Willow Springs precinct, which shows considerable free gold. There is said to be plenty of this ore in sight.

Klippel & Baumle's mill on Shively gulch is not making a steady run as yet, owing to the scarcity of quartz on the dump. This deficiency will probably be supplied soon.

Simmons, Ennis & Co., who are opening a large placer claim in Waldo mining district, Josephine county, are making excellent headway, and by next season will no doubt have their huge cut finished and everything ready for piping on an extensive scale.

Cornelius & Co.'s mill in Rock Point precinct will commence crushing quartz from the Swinden ledge in a few days. It has been improved and put in good order and will no doubt do much better work than formerly. A large force is engaged in taking quartz from the ledge, which looks better than ever.

A FATAL BLAST.

ARCHIE WATSON AND THOMAS WALKER KILLED IN THE IDAHOAN MINE.

Hailey Times, Apr 10.

About half past 4 o'clock this morning an accident occurred at the Idahoan mine by which Archie Watson and Thomas Walker lost their lives. They were sinking the east shaft, and working eight hour shifts. At 4 o'clock they came up for lunch, and returned to work about half an hour later. They then rang up for tools, which were sent down; after which they rang the bucket up. Shortly afterwards the blacksmith heard a shot in the shaft, but, of course, paid no attention to it. A few minutes thereafter, hearing groans coming from that direction, the blacksmith went down the shaft and found Walker dead and Watson insensible. They were brought up to the surface at once, and when Watson came to he said that before going to lunch they fired all the holes. On their return they examined the blast, found it had all been discharged, rang for tools and resumed drilling. They had not struck over three blows when an explosion occurred, with the results above stated.

Superintendent Havens thinks that some powder must have remained unexploded in the holes, as the men were not allowed to take any powder or caps to their work until ready to blast, and then not any more than they could use for one round of holes.

Watson lingered some hours in horrible agony and died. He was unmarried. Walker was married and his family lives in Illinois. Both men were first class miners, who had been in Col. Haven's employ for years. He thought highly of them, as he always found them competent, careful and trustworthy in every respect.

Dr. Brown, who, with Dr. McKay, was called by telephone to attend the deceased, states that Walker must have died instantly. He was shockingly mangled. Watson's arms were broken and the hands almost torn off; one arm was crushed above the elbow, the hand hanging only by a shred. His right leg was broken in several places, also the left hip. He was conscious to the last, and had an idea that some powder had remained unexploded in a hole after the preceding blast.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

OREGON.

La Grande has no vacant houses.

At Albany the Willamette river stands nine feet above low water mark.

The pay-roll of the Louisville Company, of Pine creek, for March, was over $2500.

There is some talk of putting a small steamer on the Wallowa lake in the near future.

About Salem fall wheat is growing so fast that it is necessary to pasture it down or it will be too rank.

A Jackson county paper says it seems to be only a question of time when the deer in the mountains will disappear.

George Furgeson informs the editor of the Wallowa Chieftain that his loss of stock the past winter amounted to about 10 per cent.

Oregon Sentinel: By a private letter written from Happy Camp, by Hon. J. N. T. Miller to his son, we learn that horses wintered well.

Mrs. A. R. Riggs, state president of the W. C. T. U., lectured in the Presbyterian church at Salem Monday night. Mrs. Scriber presided.

Our farmers are complaining very much about dryness of the ground, says the Oregon Sentinel. The late grain sowed is greatly in need of rain.

The different sawmills throughout Baker county will be called on to their fullest capacity to supply orders for lumber in the vicinity of Baker City.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Albany, held Monday, it was decided to retain Rev. E. R. Pritchard as pastor of the church.

Several days ago, at Sucker creek, in Grant county, Jake Mussel had an examination for the killing of Charles Albert (Spanish Charley) and was acquitted.

A few days ago, says the East Oregonian, Jack Burke, who has charge of the Pendleton fire department, had one of his ears nearly bitten off by a vicious horse.

Last Saturday night at Jacksonville, it became so cold that it froze ice on standing water. It being very dry it is supposed that it has not damaged the fruit much.

During the last ten days Thomas Page had thirty men and seventy horses at work on his Reserve farm, plowing, harrowing and seeding, says the Centerville paper.

The amendment campaigners are to have Col. George Woodford, of Illinois, to come and hold a week's protracted temperance meeting in each of a number of central points.

The Oregon Railway and Navigation office at Weston was opened last Monday, with W. C. Allaway of Troutdale as agent. Mr. Allaway has moved his family to Weston.

John Boyer and K. Kubli, of Jacksonville, have been elected representatives to the grand lodge of I. O. O. F., which will convene at East Portland on the third Tuesday in May.

Articles have been filed in the office of the secretary of state incorporating the First Presbyterian church of McCoy; incorporators, J. P. Emmett, L. W. Fletcher and J. M. Mustling; capital stock, $1200.

At the district convention of Patrons of Husbandry, held at Woodburn Friday, Mr. and Mrs. John Downing of Sublimity, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Layman of Woodburn, were elected delegates to the state grange.

There is some talk, says the Centervillian, of sinking a well similar to the one at the depot, on the hill east of Centerville, and erecting a tank large enough to supply the town with water for fire and sprinkling purposes.

Parties are examining the land lying between Old's Ferry and Ontario, in Malheur county, with a view of constructing a large canal to reclaim the desert land lying there. Water to be taken from the Malheur river.

The Coos Bay News says Rev. W. Lund has been experimenting with his carrier pigeons lately. He has sent them to different points on the bay, and immediately upon their release they returned to their quarters.

Long Creek Eagle: The town is full of fiddlers, and the saloons have a sound of revelry by night, and chivalry without much beauty is gathered there. "Beauty is only skin deep," but whisky reaches to the core.

The O. R. & N. Company's well, which is to supply the large tank at the depot grounds, at Centerville, was completed this week. The well is 45 feet deep, 8 feet wide, and has 31 feet of water in it. It has been walled up from the bottom with brick.

Baker City Democrat: The farmers of this valley intend sowing more grain this year than ever before known in Baker county. They seem to be thoroughly alive to the needs of the country and propose to do their share toward keeping up in the march of progress.

James Beagle, marshal of Pendleton, sustained injuries several years ago by an explosion of giant powder on the railroad in the vicinity of Meachem. Several pieces of small rock was blown into his flesh. Most of them were removed soon after the accident. The last piece was taken out of his upper lip Monday by a surgeon.

At Haysville, Marion county, Elder J. W. Webb lectured on the amendment a few days since. Afterwards a league was formed. J. L. Card, president; M. Hallert, vice-president; A. Stephens, secretary; Mrs. Byrne, treasurer. A committee to arrange for another meeting and a programme was also appointed.

Says an exchange: There is quite a rush from Paradise valley and the northern part of the county over the line to Grant county, Oregon. Lew Morse, William Rodifer, Antone Hinkey and other Paradisers have gone there to locate land, and the prospects are that southern Grant will be colonized with Humboldters.

Baker City Democrat: Considerable ill-feeling exists in this neighborhood between cattle and sheep owners. It is becoming more and more manifest each succeeding day that some legislation is essential, whereby large bands of sheep should be placed under some restrictions as to range. Serious trouble is brewing.

The first town election in Joseph, Wallowa county, was held last Monday, with the following result: E. J. Forsythe, mayor; G. W. Hamilton, recorder; John Martin, marshal and street commissioner; G. W. Hulery, treasurer; A. M. Hall, A. W. Gowan, W. A. Leslie and W. W. Briggs, trustees. The town officers met and qualified Tuesday evening.

Wallowa Chieftain: We occasionally hear of stock mysteriously disappearing in different portions of the county. This is no doubt the work of stock thieves, a class too lazy to work and too mean to do right. Our stock men, however, will watch their property more closely hereafter, and woe be to the fellow who is caught taking that which is not his own.

Roseburg Review: From a gentleman who lives on Deer creek we learn that Miss Hattie Teeny is helping her father, who lives in that vicinity, to put in their crop of grain. During the last week she harrowed in about fifty acres and expects to have the spring work so far done that she can again enter the public school of this city next Monday. The Oregon girls as a rule take the cake.

A few days ago the Oregon & California northbound passenger train had a narrow escape from an accident says a Southern Oregon exchange. Just after rounding a curve, about a mile and a half below Myrtle creek, the engine ran into a push car standing upon trestlework across a ravine, doing some damage to the pilot. The obstruction was evidently placed there for the malicious purpose of ditching the train.

In 1881 an old German wagon maker of La Grande, named Haller, went hunting and never came back, and no trace of him was ever found, says the East Oregonian. He left considerable property, which escheated to the state, he having no heirs. A few days ago a letter came from the old country saying that he had received a considerable legacy from that country, but the bleaching bones of the lost man have no need of it.

The Topsy and Three Sisters are busily engaged in bringing down from the Lucklamute rafts of logs for the sawmill company, says the Salem Statesman. About 4,000,000 feet of logs are now on hand, and the water near the mill has been so filled up that it has become necessary to use the upper part of the slough. There are but two boats which are engaged in river traffic beside the Three Sisters. These are the Bentley and Orient.

Tuesday's OREGONIAN had a brief dispatch from Albany about striking Chinamen. Wednesday's Herald says: Nearly 200 Chinamen left on yesterday's train to work on the O. & C. extension. About 400 Mongolian laborers have left during the past three days to engage in this work. They are offered $1 per day and a bonus of $10 to each man that goes to work, which induces many to go. Nearly all of the available Chinamen in Albany and many from Corvallis are leaving for Southern Oregon. Latest reports from the railroad work state that a large force of men are employed, and the gap is being closed up. It is thought that the Klamath will be bridged and the gap reduced to about twenty-five miles (four hours staging) by the 20th of May. As soon as the connection is as close as this the O. & C. will put on a Sunday train.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

There is talk of forming a base ball club in Tacoma.

The Chinese organized a Masonic lodge at Spokane Falls Saturday night.

Frank A. Carson, of Puyallup valley, is about to put in ten acres of hops at his place near Five Mile lake.

Mrs. Amelia Davis, aged 73 years, departed this life on Saturday last at her home in West Chehalem. She was the mother of John and William Harris and R. A. Stuart, of McMinnville.

The total amount of the school fund apportioned for Lincoln county is $6310; amount per capita, $3.433.

Tacoma News: Two big clam bakes are under consideration for the early future—one under the auspices of the G. A. R. and the other by the Odd Fellows.

According to an exchange the financial accounts of Garfield county are in a hopeless muddle. Judge Langford says the auditor and commissioners of the old board should be indicted.

Walla Walla Union: J. R. Stevens and a party of O. R. & N. surveyors will soon begin planting grade stakes on the road between Riparia and Pampa. Men are now engaged in making stakes at the depot.

At Walla Walla a man named Stone, who was at work Saturday fixing some spouting in the Prescott mill, was seriously hurt by a fall of some twelve or fifteen feet, caused by the slipping of the ladder.

The new vestry of St. Paul's church, at Walla Walla, elected at the parish meeting Monday night, are as follows: J. F. Boyer, H. M. Chase, B. L. Sharpstein, E. B. Whitman, G. W. Somerindyke, Jr., Lieut. E. F. Roe, H. E. Price.

Lincoln County Times: S. A. Divine, who recently sold a half-interest in a mine at Wardner for $20,000, passed through Davenport Tuesday, en route to the Salmon river mines, where he believes he can make another rich strike.

Many of the hop farmers in the Puyallup valley state that their season's work is being much delayed on account of the water in the hop fields. Last year at this time many of the hop poles had been set and the vines and roots pruned.

At the meeting of Trinity parish of Seattle, held Monday morning, the following-named gentlemen were elected vestrymen for the ensuing year: Messrs. H. Burnett, Charles Prosch, W. H. Forrest, J. C. Grasse, F. C. Dimock, John Leary and Bernard Pelly.

The Chautauquans of Tacoma, are making arrangements to properly celebrate Shakespeare's day, April 23. An invitation has been extended the circle in Seattle to be present upon the evening of that day, at Washington college, where exercises suitable to the occasion will be participated in.

A shooting scrape occurred last week at the sink of Rock creek, Grant county, nearly due east from here, between one named Crump and Tom Swartz, over a trivial bet. Crump, who is the sub-contractor on the mail line between Bidwell and Burns, was the aggressive party, but no one was hurt.

The other day, says a Tacoma paper, a child of M. P. Bulger, 2 years old, accidentally ran a needle into one of its knees. Thus far the doctors have been unable to reach it with their instruments. The child is not considered as in a dangerous condition. The needle will have to work its way out.

At the last meeting of Abraham Lincoln post, G. A. R., at Walla Walla, comrades Carnel, Ellsworth and Lind were appointed a memorial day committee. At a meeting of the committee from Warren post, held Sunday, Rev. Henry Brown was selected to deliver the memorial sermon, on Sunday, May 29.

At a recent meeting of the members of St. Luke's church, at Tacoma, the following vestrymen were elected for the ensuing year: I. W. Anderson, George R. Delprat, W. P. Prichard, Wm. Bond, W. Fraser, George J. Turrell and C. N. Daniels. George R. Delprat and George J. Turrell were elected delegates to attend the next diocesan convention, and Professor E. P. Young and W. C. Taylor alternates.

The Wingate vein of the Carbon Hill Coal Company's mine at Carbonado caught fire on Saturday afternoon, from an explosion of gas. At latest accounts strenuous efforts were being made to subdue the fire. The Wingate vein is one of the largest and most extensive of those now being worked by the Carbon Hill Coal Company. Should the fire get beyond control the loss will be most serious.

Seattle Press: Chief Murphy has detailed two men to make investigations concerning the find made by Eben Smith's little son, who discovered quite a number of things stolen and hidden in the suburbs by burglars. The chief is of the opinion that the burglars are either in durance or have been run out of the city, else they would have had the plunder in some fence house, as it takes two to make a successful robbery, one to steal and the other to hide.

Post-Intelligencer: Capt. Heyer of the bark Henry Buck, now loading at the Stetson & Post wharf, while at Guaymas, Mexico, saw a schooner on the beach that had been pierced through her side by a swordfish to the depth of sixteen inches. The sword penetrated the copper plate and the timber of the schooner, a thickness of twelve inches, and extended four inches inside. He mentioned, as voucher for this story, the American consul at that place.

IDAHO.

A heavy snow fell on the mountains and over on the Potlatch Saturday night.

Boise City was on last Saturday night visited by a severe frost, doing some damage to fruit trees.

Six inches of snow fell at Murray Saturday, and the surrounding forest presented a midwinter appearance.

It is expected that the gauge of the Utah & Northern, between Butte and Pocatello, will be changed by August.

Caldwell will build a new schoolhouse. At the special election held only four votes were cast against levying a tax for such purpose, out of the eighty-seven polled.

Jacob Hoover has been held in $1200 bonds for taking a shot at a neighboring rancher named John Watson. The trouble originated in a dispute over a tract of land that both claim.

Boise Statesman: Sheep shearing will commence two weeks earlier this year than usual in this vicinity, owing to the large number to be sheared. There are in Ada and Alturas counties about 60,000 head.

The people of Caldwell, says a Boise paper, are not rejoicing at the outlook for Nampa in connection with the coming branch railroad. Some of the people there are laying wagers that the road will not be built.

The widow and children of John A. Post, late postmaster at Boise City, have received $15,000, the amount of insurance upon his life. Mrs. Post and the two oldest girls get $2583 33 each, the youngest $1750 and the boy $5500.

The Ketchum Keystone says: The details of the attempted murder of Mrs. Murray by her cowardly husband shows him to be a heartless brute well deserving the rope. His insanity dodge will not help him, and a servitude of twenty years in the penitentiary is too good for him.

An exchange says: Wardner, Idaho, is said to contain eighty saloons, twelve stores, two hotels and twelve lodging houses. It is a matter of surprise where they all hole up at night. It is not stated what the population of the place is. If we allow thirty for the support of each saloon, it will show a population of 2100 persons.

Boise paper of April 12: The rain on Saturday and Sunday was general over the country and a great blessing to the farmers and stockmen. Many farmers began to despair of raising any grain, but the rain just makes vegetation of all kinds jump apace. We need more of it, but what has come will settle the plowed ground and irrigating can be done with reasonable success.

Wednesday morning a tramp was killed on the Short Line near Bliss station. Whether the man was run over by the passenger or freight train could not be determined. The body was badly cut up and was discovered by the crew of a passing freight train. The remains were not identified, but are believed to have been those of one of a gang of tramps that arrived in Shoshone the previous night.

A special dispatch dated April 9, from Minedoka, to the Boise Statesman says: In the case of the people against Johnson, Young and Lovett, tried here to-day, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. Judge Hayes sentenced Johnson to twenty, Young to ten and Lovett eight years in the penitentiary. These were the men who put up bogus packages of money at Albion, Cassia county, and had confederates rob the express, and then the senders claimed pay for the pretended amount of money sent.

Eagle Rock Register: There are ten new standard gauge locomotives and two new standard gauge baggage cars at Pocatello, the first installment of the new rolling stock ordered for the Utah & Northern under the change of gauge contemplated. New ties are being scattered along the railroad, and an order has been issued giving each section foreman eight men. A new tie will be placed alternately between the old ones, the remaining old ones being allowed to remain until next season. The widening of the track will be done on Friday, the first day of July.

MONTANA.

Over 800 men are now employed at the smelter and the works are running in fine style at Anaconda.

Helena Herald: Auditor Sullivan reports paying, for the county Saturday, on 2168 ground squirrels, $108 40. It must be lucrative pastime to go gun ning for ground squirrels.

At Anaconda about 450 men are now employed working, a less number than was employed last year. They averaged 1200 tons of ore per day in March and made over 4900 tons of metal.

The Odd Fellows of Helena are preparing to celebrate the sixty-eighth anniversary of their order, April 26, on a grand scale. The programme will embrace a street parade in the afternoon at 2:30 of all members of the order in uniform and regalia. They will conclude in the evening with a complimentary banquet and ball.

Work is actively in progress in preparing the grounds of the Deer Lodge Fair and Racing Association. The posts are already set more than half way around the track, and the lower turns are being graded up high on the outside by plowing ground outside the track, scraping it in and grading down. On the home stretch and around the starting quarter the track is widened out very considerably, and every effort is being made to render it the best and fastest mile track in the territory. Contracts will soon be let for the buildings, and it is intended to have all complete for a local meeting about the Fourth of July.

No bids have yet been received at Helena by Surveyor-General Greene for surveying the timber lands in Missoula county, within the Northern Pacific land grant limit, for which work the balance of $15,000 of last year's appropriation has been set aside. Surveyors are apparently indisposed to undertake the survey of a rough and densely timbered country at the maximum prices allowed, especially as it is certain that they must wait a year or more for their money, owing to the impossibility of handling their work in the surveyor-general's office with the inefficient appropriation for clerk hire. Mineral survey work in the surveyor-general's office is constantly increasing and, with it, the number of clerks employed. This is a class of work that pays its own way, and is not dependent upon government appropriations.

THE BIG BEND.

Cheney Sentinel.

Mr. Charles H. Bolton, the treasurer of Douglas county, is over from his home at Badger. He says that the coming town of that portion of our country is Waterville, a place that has been laid out four miles northeast of Badger, in the center of the best farming district over that way. It is entered as a government townsite, consequently lots can be obtained with government title for the nominal sum of $14 all told. Wells of water are had by sinking forty feet. Mr. Nowhouse, of the Wenas, is erecting a store; Mr. Stowell of Ellensburg has started a blacksmith shop; a man from Ellensburg is opening a harness shop; and a number of other business houses are projected, among them a town hall. About 100 settlers have taken up their residence in the township, and others are filing on lands all around. The neighborhood is beyond the confines of the Northern Pacific railroad land grant, and title is obtained direct from the government. Treasurer Bolton has already paid out moneys to several regularly organized school districts. A good many settlers are taking their families in with them. Bolton returns to the Big Bend in company with Surveyor Navarre.

ABOUT SALMON RIVER.

Ketchum, Idaho, Paper.

Lyman Peters returned on Sunday last from a trip to Salmon river, and found his horses that had wintered there in fine condition. He also visited Clayton and Bay Horse. He found stock had generally done exceedingly well in Antelope valley and on the Salmon river during the winter, the horses particularly being in fine order. The ranchers in the valley were busy plowing and seeding, and the prospects for good crops very encouraging. While on his return home he met parties from Lost river that gave a poor account of the stock there. Feed had been poor during the winter and many of the cattle had died, with the prospect of others meeting the same fate. The snow on the summit was fast disappearing, and, where the dirt had been thrown, it was going very rapidly. He thinks that teaming can be safely commenced by the first of the coming month.

HE WISHED TO DIE.

Walla Walla Journal, April 11.

Corporal Eberhard Wiederhold, of troop F, Second cavalry, took a dose of laudanum Sunday night, with suicidal intent. It was after "taps," and the discovery was made through his reaching over and touching his bunkmate and saying "Good bye." The comrade gave the alarm, and Wiederhold was subjected to the application of a stomach pump, which resurrected the poison and left him in a fair way to recover. He is at the post hospital. The cause of the attempt can only be guessed. Wiederhold is a man of good education and address, and is said to be a German baron. He received a draft for $1500 from the old country a short time ago and has had similar remittances periodically.

STERLING, [illegible] August 22, 1885.

We feel we must write something of the success of Hop Bitters. Their sale is double that of any other article of medicine. Hence we feel it but justice to you and your Bitters to say that it is a medicine of real merit and virtue, and doing much good and effecting great cures. Yours, [illegible] & E. E. UTLEY.

HAYESVILLE, OHIO, Feb. 11, 1886.

I am very glad to say I have tried Hop Bitters, and never took anything that did me as much good. I only took two bottles and I would not take $100 for the good they did me. I recommend them to my patients, and get the best of results from their use.

C. B. MERCER, M. D.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 15, 1885.

We take pleasure in giving you a notice and a nice, strong one, as it [Hop Bitters] deserves it. We use it, and we know it deserves it.—"The Register."

HOP BITTERS MFG. CO.:

I know Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums and give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never done before with any patent medicine.

KAHOKA, MO., Feb. 9, 1886.

I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co. last fall, for my daughter, and am well pleased with the Bitters. They did her more good than all the medicine she has taken for six years.

WM. T. McCLURE.

The above is from a very reliable farmer, whose daughter was in poor health for seven or eight years, and could obtain no relief until she used Hop Bitters. She is now in as good health as any person in this country. We have large sales, and they are making remarkable cures.

The Merchandise Markets.

While general trade at this time is of satisfacto... ... there is remarked a falling away of dis... ... demands, interior dealers having stocked ... some freedom last month, while those who ... to be under the ban of the new ... law laid in heavy stocks. The de... ... was stimulated by a feeling that ... many lines would be advanced with April. Value changes have not been numerous nor as important as looked for, and the advances noted have been due to other influences than those of rail transportation charges. The willingness, and even desire, to sell as cheaply as possible remains, and until goods actually cost more to lay down, little or nothing need be expected in the way of value enhancement. This is much more true of the grocery lines than of others, for already one hears of advances being demanded in some on the strength of new transportation rates. Last year dealers were compelled to submit to losses brought about by cut rates. Now where competition is not especially brisk they are only trying to regain what was then lost. Eastern classes of groceries, as a rule, are on a firm basis because of freights, but many of the staples are not markedly affected, being landed here by the water routes. There is probably more desire to sell now manifested than might have been anticipated, for there is more risk in holding than was thought possible, the chances for a suspension and later abolishment of the long and short haul clause being regarded as very fair.

Little is said locally of the salmon interests. Some fish are being caught but there is no stir and no saying what the month will show. Perfect harmony seems to prevail down river and as canners have good prices in sight they can pay the demands of fishermen, while the latter are not anxious to see last season's experience repeated. Shipments so far this month have been largely made up of fall pack, but little spring being moved. Tonnage rates by sea promise to rule low and this fact favors trade with England.

April is described by Eastern trade papers as having opened most auspiciously so far as the general condition of commercial and financial affairs is concerned. The development in all that relates to business activity seems to be reasonably assured. Apprehension regarding the interstate commerce law is gradually disappearing, and while it is as yet an unsolved problem, the general determination to give its provisions a practical test, eliminates the fear of disturbance with which it was viewed a few weeks ago. The fear of a tight money market has been dispelled by an easier tendency of funds in every important financial center. Regarding the New York markets the telegraph has furnished but meagre details. Coffee closes weak but has advanced beyond prices quoted on the 6th inst by mail and the Shipping List says the advances have been a surprise even to the bulls. Also that the belief in short supplies and higher prices seems to be gaining ground in Europe, and with a rampant market in Havre, values on this side very naturally sympathized. If the majority of those engaged in the trade in the largest consuming countries believe in higher prices, a still further advance is inevitable, and recent events would seem to point to a thinning out of the bear ranks and large accessions to the ranks of the bulls. Spices were quiet but steady with only a moderate demand for wholesale lots and a light distributive trade. Cloves were a trifle higher. Refined sugars in light demand, prices the shade easier and market dull. Refiners were taking raws only for special requirements having large stocks of refined. Nails showed an easier feeling with demands limited to small lots and $2 35@2 45 quoted.

THE LOCAL MARKET.

COAL OIL—Quiet, but steady, good brands quoted 22@23c.

CANNED GOODS—Demands rule light, the interior being well supplied, and the market wears a weak tone. Prices on many coast and some Eastern varieties are shaded and quoted declines will probably be soon noted. Quotations are: Assorted table fruits, 2½s, $2@2 25; 8s, $4 25@4 50; table apricots, blackberries and cherries, 2½s, $2@2 25, currants $2 00@2 25, gooseberries $2 50, grapes $1 60@2, peaches $2 50, strawberries $2 25@2 50, raspberries $2 37½@2 50, pears $2@2 25, plums $1 75@2, pineapples $2 50 @2 75. Assorted pie fruit, 2½s, $1 75@$2, and 8s $3 75; pie apricots, blackberries, cherries and gooseberries, $1 50@1 75, cherries, $1 75@ $2; peaches and squash, $1 20@1 50. Jellies and jams, assorted, $1 75@2. Corn $1 60@1 70; tomatoes $1 35; beans and peas, $1 30@1 40; asparagus $2 50; mushrooms, $2 25; French peas, $2@2 50.

COFFEE—San Francisco on Saturday reported a sharp advance in most kinds, and our market is 1@2c higher for Guatemala and Costa Rica. Arbuckle's roasted advanced ½c to 21½c. Eastern markets close slightly below the best figures of the week. We quote Costa Rica 18c, Guatemala 16½ @17½c, Salvador nominally 16½.

RICE—Quiet, but there is a fair business doing. China mixed $4 50@4 75, Island $5, Southern $4 25 @4 50.

SALT—Fair request is easily supplied, the market being no more than steady. Liverpool quoted $14 50, $16 and $18, with usual discount for round lots. Stock salt $8@9.

SUGARS—Quiet. Sixty-day quotations are: Confectioners' A 5⅞c, dry granulated 6⅛c, C 4¾c, extra C 5¼c, cube, 6⅞c, powdered, 6⅞c, crushed, 6⅞c. Halves and boxes ¼@½c higher.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Foreign operators are not getting any response from this market to their efforts to advance prices. They changed front this morning and were free sellers of stocks purchased in the last few days. The market opened weak and declined, ranging up to ⅝ per cent. in Louisville & Nashville, and further fractional losses established in early dealing. The entire market rallied quickly, however, under the lead of Western Union and Wheeling & Lake Erie, and early losses were generally regained, after which the market became comparatively quiet and steady. In the afternoon the entire list declined under persistent hammering and with exception of one slight rally, the weakness continued until 2 P. M., when the lowest figures for the day generally were made. There was a slight rally in the last hour, and the close was moderately active and steady.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mining shares were quiet but strong, with the following closing prices bid: Amador $1 75, Bodie $2, El Christo $7, Homestake $14, Mexican $4 35, N. B. Isle $7, Navajo $1 10, Stoulard $1, Silver King $9 75, Security $6 25, Sutro $26.

Spot, storage paid—100 tons at $1 74.

3 P. M.—Spot wheat ruled dull during the day, with little disposition shown by shippers to pay asking prices; at $1 65 to $1 67½ some buyers would take hold but it is difficult to find sellers at those figures. On afternoon call session trading was slow but prices were higher. Sales: Buyer season—200 tons at $1 82¼. Buyer year—500 tons at $1 92¼. Seller year—200 tons at $1 68¼, 700 tons at $1 68½, 400 tons at $1 68⅛, 100 tons at $1 68⅞, 300 tons at $1 68¼. July, 100 tons at $1 77, 200 tons at $1 77¼, 400 tons at $1 77. Total sales for the day were 13,000 tons. Compared with Monday's closing, buyer the season is up 1¾c, buyer year 2¼c, and seller the year ¼c lower.

Barley—The market has a strong undertone, owing to small receipts and firmness of holders. The demand is moderate. No. 1 feed, $1 05@1 07½, No. 2, 97½c@$1 02½; brewing, $1 10@1 17½.

Options—Active and prices better. Buyer the season opened at $1 08½; closed, $1 09¼. Buyer the year opened at $1 13, closed, $1 14.

MANHOOD RESTORED. A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. Address, C. J. MASON, Post Office Box 3179, New York City.

That Tired Feeling

Is so general at this season that every one knows what is meant by the expression. A change of season, climate, or of life, has such a depressing effect upon the body that one feels all tired out, almost completely prostrated the appetite is lost, and there is no ambition to do anything. The whole tendency of the system is downward. In this condition Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It purifies the blood, sharpens the appetite, overcomes the tired feeling, and invigorates every function of the body. Try it

"We all like Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is so strengthening." LIZZIE BALFOUR, Auburn, R. I.

The Weak Made Strong.

"I never took any medicine that did me so much good in so short a time as Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was very much run down, had no strength, no energy, and felt very tired all the time. I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had used one bottle felt like a different person. That extreme tired feeling has gone, my appetite returned, and it toned me up generally. My brother and sister have also received great benefit from it." CLARA W. PHILLIPS, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered considerably, being for nearly a year troubled with indigestion. I am now on my fourth bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and never felt better in my life. It has made a new man of me." H. M. HILLMAN, Des Plaines Street Police Station, Chicago, Ill.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Cancer of the Tongue.

My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration. Accompanying this trouble was rheumatism. It had passed from the shoulders and centered in the wrist of one hand, she almost losing the use of it. Between the suffering of the two, life had grown burdensome. By the use of a half dozen small sized bottles of Swift's Specific, she was entirely relieved and restored to health. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease.

DR. LIEBIG & CO.
SPECIAL
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
OF SAN FRANCISCO

THE ABOVE WELL KNOWN AND LONG ESTABLISHED specialists having many patients in this and surrounding counties, have decided to open an office at Knickerbocker House, Washington St.

between Third and Fourth,

Where they will have private offices for one month only, from March 11th 1887, and where all who desire to consult the Renowned Specialists will have an opportunity of doing so FREE OF CHARGE.

The Liebig Dispensary for the treatment of all Chronic, Private and Complicated diseases has been established in San Francisco for nearly a quarter of a century. The Dispensary building occupies the entire corner of Geary and Mason streets, San Francisco, and is the only Medical and Surgical Institute on the Pacific coast that has its own elegant Drug Store in Dispensary building, employing registered chemists and scientific surgical instrument makers to manufacture all surgical instruments for the patients of the Liebig Dispensary; also to prepare the celebrated Dr. Liebig's wonderful German Invigorator. To the marvelous cures and discoveries made by Dr. Liebig & Co are due all the great successes they have had. In 1881 they discovered the complication, Prostatorrhœa, resulting from youthful imprudence and excesses of maturity, or unskillfully treated cases of a specific nature that from time immemorial had prevented thousands from being cured of nervous debility, physical weakness and unnatural losses from the system, resulting from the follies of youth. Dr. Liebig & Co. are every successful remedial agent known to modern scientists favoring the school of Homeopathy and Electricism, taking from the Allopathic all that is useful and adapting surgical instruments to the various ailments and deformities, attaching to appliances magnetism and electricity. Successful treatment guaranteed in all curable cases or no fees required.

SURGICAL BRANCH.

The Doctors will give personal attention to diseases of the Chest, Head and Throat, Catarrh, diseases of the Liver and Kidneys; also to Deformities requiring surgical appliances. Balance of the treatment conducted from the Liebig Dispensary, San Francisco California.

THE "SPOKANE" WRECK.

Statement from the Owner of the Capsized Steamboat.

The Trip, he Says, was an Experimental One, and that he Did not Solicit Passengers or Charge Fare—A Straightforward Statement.

SPOKANE FALLS, April 11.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

As there have been many rumors regarding the recent disaster on the Cœur d'Alene river, I have made the enclosed statement. As your paper has had an account of it, I ask, as simple justice to myself and crew, that you give space to this article in your columns. Facts have been contorted and so many absurd stories have gained currency, that I think I should have at least a hearing. I will only add that every statement contained in the following can be substantiated by the most reliable testimony:

On Sunday, the 3d of April, I started on a trip with my steamer from Cœur d'Alene city for the old Mission. I had been at work with two men for a week at Cœur d'Alene, getting it ready for operation. On Saturday evening we steamed up and tried her on the lake, and everything seemed to work all right. I told my engineer we would go out next morning and make a trial trip, and on our return to Cœur d'Alene I would come to Spokane and have my printing done and advertise the time we were to run on. He was to remain and paint the boat while I was in Spokane, as I would not be ready for business for several days. As stated above, we left Cœur d'Alene city Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Wm. H. Harrington, of Kingston, three men and one lady got aboard with us, and we got to Mission Sunday evening all right. We had supper on our arrival and soon after supper we were informed that the raise in the river on Friday had taken out the railroad bridge, and that the water was so high on both sides of the river that the approach to the ferry boat was all under water, and that a horse could not even get to it. The four men who had rode up with us commenced urging me to take them to Kingston. I told them at once that I was not prepared to go there; and would not go, but they kept after me until I consented to take them up, providing I could obtain some wood from Mrs. Courtright. I obtained the wood from her, and then I told the passengers that I would go up with them. On Monday morning at 7 o'clock we started up, and took our time and went very slow, examining the river as we went—the best we could—we met with no trouble and arrived at Kingston about noon. To my surprise the bank of the river was lined with people, many of whom had come from Wardner, and residents of Kingston. We tied up the boat and as soon as I got out I found myself shaking hands with friends and acquaintances, congratulating me on the ARRIVAL OF THE NEW BOAT.

I expressed my surprise at seeing so many people there and what had brought them there, as I had not advertised and was only up on a trial trip, and I was informed that telephone messages had been sent to Kingston and Wardner, that my steamer would be there, and the large crowd was there to welcome me upon my new venture. It was all news to me. I was asked how soon we would return and I answered that I did not know, but would possibly go as soon as we got some dinner. I went up town and attended to a number of small errands that I had in Kingston, and then went back to the boat and gave my engineer some money, 50 cents I believe, and told him to go into Slocum's and get his dinner. I then went and had quite a talk with my man Jesse Hodges, who had just come down from Wardner with a number of saddle horses, and then turned from him and went down to the boat. I asked the engineer if he was ready to go; he said no, he wanted to get up more steam. I went and got an armful of kindling wood and put it in the boat. It was not long afterwards that he told me he was ready. The rope was let loose and I coiled it in the front of the boat, and my man told me to take down that trunk which was on the bow of the boat. I immediately did so, and then he called to me and said: "Mr. Martin, you will have to attend to the fire while we go down this current and I will attend to the wheel." I came at once to the front of the boiler and took off my overcoat and gloves and handed my coat to Mr. Hanna, and told him to sit on it. I looked at the steam gauge and saw that it was between 70 and 80, and I opened the door of the boiler and saw there was a good fire and only put in a couple of sticks of wood. When I straightened up I looked ahead of the boat and saw we were nearing a small island where a large amount of drift had caught on the lower end.

THE CHANNEL WAS DIVIDED.

I heard my engineer ask which was the best channel. I made him no reply, as I did not know, and did not wish to confuse him; but I heard the reply come from some of the passengers. Some said "right" and others "left." He took the right, missed the island and jam, but struck a log on the lower end of the jam, which extended out and under the water, with the bow of the boat. The boat received the concussion and dipped to the right and took in some water, but righted itself; when, at this moment, four or five men sitting on the left hand back seat jumped on the logs, thereby throwing all the weight on the right hand side of the boat, and as it then stood quartering with the strong current the moment the weight threw her back and the current caught the edge it turned over. I found myself in the bottom of the river. When I came to the surface I tried to make the shore, but the current was too strong and I turned and floated with it. I was drawn under the water three times before I caught myself on a limb which was on the big jam. I did not see any one in the water except Mr. Hanna. When I went under the second time and came on top Hanna was about eight or ten feet ahead of me in the same current and struggling, and one other man, unknown to me, was ahead of Mr. Hanna. I only knew five of the persons who were on the boat, namely, George Leghorn, Mr. Pike, Mr. Hanna, L. J. Fowler and Mr. Marcus. I did not solicit a single passenger that got on my boat, nor did I receive one cent from any of them. I had not advertised nor did I expect a single passenger from Kingston or Wardner. As to myself, I claim no ability to man a boat, nor did I intend to do it. I was on a trial trip to show the route to my engineer and I desired to know the time the boat could make and all about it, as I had purchased it for a fast boat and was anxious to know, and on my return would have placed the crew on her I desired to employ.

As to the engineer, he has been a half-owner in the boat for more than a year and had exclusive charge of her. I believe him perfectly capable of handling the boat anywhere he is acquainted with the water. It has been rumored that he was drunk. I know that he was not, and will only say that Mr. Fenn, of the Mission, went up with us from the Mission to Kingston—from 7 A. M. till 12 noon—and got in the boat to return with us, and he swore at the coroner's inquest held yesterday at Cœur d'Alene that he did not see a drop of liquor going up on the boat, nor did he see him drink any at Kingston, and swore that shortly after we pulled out of Kingston he saw a bottle passed to him and he refused to drink. Mr. George Ellis is well known at Sand Point and by a number of people in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, and has the best of recommendations. I purchased the boat of him about the last of last November.

AS TO THE BOAT.

I believe it to be the best boat of the kind in the Northwest. It was built in 1882 down on Snake river for a Mr. Ringer. Mr. Butler, who is now stopping at Cœur d'Alene, and is a mechanic, was called before the coroner's inquest as an expert and swore that he built the boat now called the Spokane; that it was a 39-foot keel by 8 beam; that its capacity was seven tons and its speed eighteen miles an hour; that he had run the boat in very swift water, and in fact was a swift water boat, and that he did not consider her overloaded at the time of the accident—that he had more than that number in the boat many times. I had seats arranged in her so we could seat twenty-four passengers comfortably. At the time we left Kingston I had no express on board; had one small trunk and a number of valises, and will say here that the evening before I left Kingston that the boat had been raised and found not injured, except the boiler was out of it, and a number of the valises recovered, which I ordered left in charge of Mr. Sanborn, who is the justice of the peace in Kingston. Shortly after I was rescued from the water Mr. George Crane came down from Wardner and called on me in Mr. Harrington's house, and after some conversation he told me he was willing to give four or five days of his time to assist in recovering the bodies. I told him to go on and organize his crew and start out in the morning, and spare nothing to find the bodies. I was in no physical condition to attend to it myself, and was glad Mr. Crane was so kind to me and to all of us. In conclusion I will say that no man knows what I have suffered or endured in the past few days. I have made the above statement to refute some of the erroneous statements that have found their way into the papers. I had forgotten to say that I was arrested at Kingston by the United States marshal, but I explained my position to him and he at once released me. The people of Spokane Falls and a large number of the inhabitants of the Cœur d'Alene mines well know how I have served them in the past two years as a public carrier. I always aimed to have careful drivers and to please my patrons and do the best I could by all, and am grieved to see so many false rumors about myself. With the above statement I feel assured that no one will attach any blame to me for the sad accident, and I thank God so many of us were saved. I also will say that at the coroner's inquest I was exonerated from any blame in connection with the accident.

THE EAST SIDE.

Free-Fight Case in the Recorder's Court—One Conviction.

Powell's Valley Matters—Desperate Chances Taken—Suggestion—Albina—Roads—Personal and General Notes.

The case of the state against Cody came up in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Cody was not a principal in the fight, but the evidence introduced to the jury showed that he encouraged the parties who were engaged in the fight, and that had it not been for him the row would have ceased much sooner. It was also proven by the testimony that Cody caught hold of Smith, and, while holding him, urged Cordy "to go in and give it to him." After the fight had gone on a few minutes, Smith offered to shake hands with his antagonist and call it all right, but outside parties (Cody in particular) urged them on. The case went to the jury about 6 in the evening, and after being out about ten minutes returned a verdict of guilty as charged. R. M. Dement appeared for the defendant, and A. J. Campbell for the prosecution. Recorder Newell fined Cody $15.

The other cases came up this afternoon at 4 o'clock. There was some confusion over the two names Cody and Cordy, and witnesses constantly mixed them. Cordy is the man who had the fight and plead guilty, while Cody is the man who was found guilty of assault yesterday.

POWELL'S VALLEY.

Mr. Connutt, who lives in Powell's Valley, has been in the city for the past few days. He reports the roads, from East Portland out to Powell's valley, not in the best of condition, but passable, the worst portion being within the city limits. The late cold rains have caused considerably delay in active farming operations. Nothing has been done on the low grounds, but on the high land, where it is dryer, cultivation has advanced farther than on the lower grounds. The high price now paid for potatoes will stimulate their cultivation in Powell's valley. Mr. Connutt says there has been but little fruit raised in the valley, but probably more attention will be given to this line in the future, in view of the fact that the cannery will take all that can be furnished. Powell's valley is substantially prosperous.

CONSIDERABLE ACTIVITY.

There is considerable activity in the city of Albina. A gentleman passing through that place yesterday says that buildings are going up in all portions of the city. Business houses are being put up on Russell street. Work on the terminal buildings is progressing rapidly. The dump cars have been at work filling around the foundation of the machine shops, the dirt being taken from the sand bluff in the lower yards. An impression is current that the remaining portion of the buildings not included in the present contract will be ordered built this year. This would necessitate an immense amount of stone foundation work. A slight impression has been made upon the vast quantity of material collected around the works.

WOMAN'S GUILD.

The regular annual meeting of the woman's guild of St. David's Parish was held on Easter Monday, when the following officers were elected for the following year: Vice-president, Mrs. M. Stone; secretary, Mrs. John W. Sellwood; treasurer, Mrs. F. Alspaugh. The secretary and treasurer read full reports of the work accomplished in the past year, which showed the guild to be in a flourishing condition, and a valuable auxiliary to the rector and vestry of St. David's church. The regular meetings of the guild are held on the first Thursday of each month at 2 P. M.

DESPERATE CHANCES.

Yesterday a young man of the name of Lewis drove into the city and tied his horse on Fourth street. He had been standing a few minutes when he became frightened and broke away. The young man caught the horse by the reins, and although he was swung around and came near being trampled to death, he hung on like grim death and succeeded in stopping the animal. The horse was young and fractious and had been in harness but a few times. Young Lewis deserves credit for his prompt and determined action.

TOOK A SPIN.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. B. Allen, dealer in real estate in Portland, was crossing the bridge in his buggy to show a customer some land on this side. When they reached the east end of the bridge the horse took fright at some rubbish, sprang to one side, overturning the buggy and spilling out the occupants. Mr. Allen was dragged a short distance. No one was hurt. The horse freed himself from the buggy and went down Water to J and then up J toward the cemetery, with the harness flying about him.

SHOULD BE REPAIRED.

The road at the extreme northern part of East Portland leading into the city of Albina is in a very bad condition and should be repaired at once. On the hill at the point where the road leads down into the city is the worst place. If within the corporate limits of Albina that city should see that it be put in better condition. There is considerable travel between East Portland and Albina, and the road should be made passable.

NOTES.

There will be no meeting at W. C. T. U. hall this afternoon.

Mrs. Arthur Bennell, of Lewiston, was in the city yesterday.

The railroad at the intersection of U street has been raised to the established grade.

Mrs. McCren, living at the extreme east end of the city, is lying very ill at her residence.

Mr. Orsa and family moved from Portland to the east side yesterday and now occupy the cottage on the corner of Fifth and R streets.

The contractors for the N street roadway are collecting piling in the slough and will work as soon as possible. It is thought the improvement can be made within sixty days.

Wm. M. Wisdom, druggist, has purchased a piece of ground in the Belmont park, at Mount Tabor, and it is stated he will erect a dwelling house thereon. Others contemplate making similar purchase and improvement.

Tuesday Mr. Stearns, who is connected with the real estate office of Eugene White, in this city, was called home by the sudden illness of his 2-months old child. The child lived but a short time after being taken sick. Funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Halfpenny and Mr. Stephen H. Bacon were appointed ushers at the vestry meeting of St. David's parish on Tuesday evening, and Messrs. F. W. Berry, G. M. Stroud and S. Bullock were elected delegates to attend the annual convocation, which will convene in Trinity church, Portland, June 16, 1887.

JUSTICE TUTTLE DECIDES THE OLD PLUG WAS NOT GOOD FOR TWENTY-EIGHT MILES A DAY.

Yesterday afternoon in Justice Tuttle's court the second edition of the Marion Reed-M. L. Johnson horse case was on trial. Tuesday Reed had a partial examination on a charge of cruelty to animals in driving a 14-year-old horse of Johnson's twenty-eight miles, Wednesday, a week ago, when, Johnson swears, his contract with Reed was that the horse should be driven only fourteen miles, and as he bought the horse from Reed, he consequently was well aware what the old plug could reasonably do in a day. Johnson admits he does not like Reed very well, nor never did, but avers this did not influence him in the case, but that he simply got mad because Reed ruined old Copperbottom No. 2 by overdriving him.

Reed claims the old plug is as good as ever he was, and to prove that Johnson is not the humanitarian as to horses he pretends to be, he had Johnson hauled up for himself abusing a balky horse something like a year ago. Reed says because the horse wouldn't go, Johnson went a half of a mile after a pitchfork to prod him with. Johnson pleaded guilty to this, and was fined $10. Reed was adjudged guilty, and fined $10. He threatens to appeal the case to the state circuit court. Both are farmers living on the Taylor's ferry road.

A WOMAN'S EXCHANGE.

A New Enterprise by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Something about the Struggles and Work of the Union in Portland—The New Departure Promises Well.

About five years ago the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was organized in this city. During the comparatively brief history of this laudable and deserving organization it has overcome many difficulties. The principal obstacle has been, and still is, the want of funds.

Commencing without adequate means at hand to draw from as necessity required, the union has been maintained only by constant and untiring efforts on the part of its original projectors and by generous contributions from those who felt and feel a kindly interest in and sympathy with "every good word and work," with an organized Christian effort to accomplish certain moral results. Against the growing needs of the union on the one hand and the pressure of low funds on the other, the struggle has been maintained with heroic effort and labor. Through all its financial vicissitudes the members have stood firmly and bravely by the organization, and have at no time during its short existence in this city despaired of ultimately placing the union on a sound and self-sustaining basis.

That it is deserving of encouragement and support is a very apparent fact. No organization has for its mission higher or more laudable purposes. Its legitimate field is the world; its object to labor for morality, for temperance, for purity of life and for the cause of common humanity. Primarily the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is a religious organization, but its scope is not limited to sect or creed. To help the helpless, to succor the needy, to raise the lowly, to ameliorate the wants and woes of life, to inculcate the principles of morality, sobriety, of true manhood and womanhood, to encourage the weak and wavering, and to offer the hopes and consolations of religion are among its chief purposes. Any effort to make life brighter, lighter and better properly comes within the range of its field of operation. This, in brief, is the summarized purpose of the organization. What it may have failed to accomplish in the moral vineyard of Portland has not been attributable to any lack of activity, of earnest will, or want of vigilance, but due solely to its comparative financial helplessness. Thus far the union has existed by dint of determined effort against the pressing need of means, and even in the face of this necessity has made a measure of progress that, while it is encouraging of itself, gives early promise of better days and a broader field of usefulness. With sufficient means at hand to operate with freedom, what good work might be wrought through the instrumentality, and what great moral victories achieved, who can tell?

Contributions obtained by means of constant soliciting on the part of the members and principal officers of the organization, and a series of entertainments and occasional lectures, have been the only sources of revenue since the formation of the union. One of the long desired needs is to secure some steady source of income, even if small in the beginning, which could be augmented as the membership swelled and as the wants increased. At length the union has adopted a plan which it is confidently hoped and expected will prove very advantageous in meeting the cogent calls for money.

Some months ago Mrs. A. R. Riggs, president of the State Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and one of the active leading spirits in the effort in Portland went east as a delegate to attend the national convention. While in Minneapolis Mrs. Riggs personally examined into the practical workings of the Woman's Exchange that was conducted under the immediate auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of that city. She found the project was a feasible one; that it was working very successfully and yielded a constant revenue. On returning Mrs. Riggs presented the plan to the union here, and after a thorough canvass of the prospects the members concluded to adopt the same. Steps were at once taken in that direction by the organization of a Women's Exchange and subsequently by the filing of articles of incorporation. This organization is, of course, within the limits and membership of the Portland union; under its direct management and subject to its control. It is neither more nor less than an auxiliary of the union. At a meeting held some weeks since, an election of officers was held, at which the following were chosen: President, Mrs. H. L. Pierce; vice-president, Mrs. M. L. Pearce; corresponding secretary, Miss Jane E. Weeden; recording secretary, Mrs. Ogden; treasurer, Mrs. Townsend.

Yesterday the exchange opened at the rooms of the Women's Christian Temperance Union on First street, between Jefferson and Columbia. A few words of explanation as to the mode of operation may be proper in this connection. The exchange, as the name implies, is a place where things are sold. Any articles donated by friends of the movement will be placed on exhibition at the rooms and sold to anyone wishing to purchase. Persons having any article for sale can leave it at the exchange, where a purchaser will be found as soon as possible. Ten per cent. commission will be charged for the sale of all such articles. The proceeds of all articles donated to the union and sold will be turned into the treasury as so much gain. Articles placed on sale will be kept for three months and if, at the end of that time, no purchaser is found, the article or articles are returned to the owner or else sold at auction. The articles offered will include clothing of all kinds, groceries, jellies, jams, canned fruits, paintings, etc., etc.; in fact, everything which can be used in connection with housekeeping or the ornamentation or embellishment of homes. The exchange will occupy most of the large room on First street, which is about 100 feet by 25. It is the purpose to give a lunch every day from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M. For the present the reading room will not be given up. Three ladies have been detailed to attend to the business of the union. One has charge of the lunch, one attends to the intelligence office, which was opened some time since, and another to the sales department.

A visit was made yesterday afternoon by an OREGONIAN reporter to the Women's Christian Temperance Union rooms, where a good deal of activity was observed among the ladies. Although it was "opening day," so far as the exchange was concerned, the display of articles was quite large. Prominent among the articles for sale were noted several large paintings and a number of smaller sketches, all neatly framed; numerous pieces of hand painting on silk and satin; several handsomely-bound books; elegant toilet sets covered with silk, plush, etc., and beautifully painted; a quantity of fruit in jars, also sweet sacramental wine; a fine display of table drapery elaborately worked with silk by machine, and various other articles, both ornamental and useful. In one of the windows is a splendid floral display. It is the purpose of the exchange to keep a supply of fresh flowers every day. One of the ladies in charge said to the reporter that the exchange will be glad to receive all kinds of articles from ladies or gentlemen to sell on commission; and, of course, any donations will be very gratefully accepted. Most of the articles now on hand are contributed, but some are to be sold on commission. "We have done very well, indeed, to-day," remarked the lady, "considering the fact that the exchange is scarcely open yet and ready for business. We did not expect to open with such a large number of different articles. In a few days, after we get fairly started, I think we shall receive large additions. In the way of sales we have done pretty well so far, and, judging from the opening, have good reason to feel much encouraged." Last evening a number of articles were also disposed of. Of course the project is merely experimental. What degree of success will attend the enterprise is a problem which only the future can solve. If it proves a failure the exchange will have to be abandoned, and some other expedient adopted. However, the ladies are united in their efforts, and all heartily enlisted in the cause, and, if it is within the limits of possibility, will make the project a success.

At present the Woman's Christian Temperance union has a membership of 130. Some idea may be formed of the scope of the work embraced by the following committees appointed to look after certain matters: Dr. Hunt, scientific instruction; Mrs. Bond, Sabbath school work; Mrs. Shane Smith, heredity and hygiene; Dr. King, conference with influential bodies; Mrs. S. Murton, evangelistic superintendent; Mrs. Farres, unfermented wines; Miss Parrott, young ladies' work; Mrs. Douglas, prison and jail; Mrs. Catlin, juvenile and fair work; Mrs. Bruck, work among foreigners; Miss Weeden, Union Signal; Mrs. Dr. Adair, capital and labor; Mrs. M. A. Thomas, legislature and petitions; Mrs. Cooper, Sabbath desecrations; Miss Parrott and Mrs. Hodnett, flower mission; Mrs. Shane Smith and Miss Weeden, press work; Mrs. S. Murton, work among sailors.

Farmers in the vicinity of East Portland are evidently preparing for spring work. Almost every wagon from the country goes out with a plow, harrow, or some agricultural implement, all of which indicates what is to become of the immense quantities of such implements stored in East Portland. The market is local and yet ample.

THE WOOLY APHIS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

In this morning's OREGONIAN your reporter quotes me as saying at the meeting of the Fruit Growers' society, yesterday, that the wooly aphis is a fungus. Now I know nothing in regard to this pestiferous insect, and, at the meeting, only asked a question or two about it; but I know it is not a fungus. A fungus don't have wings and legs, and get about the country as this fellow does. A. R. SHIPLEY.

A WAREHOUSE CASE.

Decision by the Supreme Court Defining Farmers' Rights.

Grain Deposited in Warehouses Cannot be Taken to Pay the Warehouseman's Debts—Holders of Receipts Protected.

The following decision rendered by the supreme court at Salem on Tuesday, 12th inst., settles a point long at issue as to the rights of parties holding warehouse receipts for grain. It is of very great importance, especially to those who have often suffered from the rascality or failure of warehousemen:

McKee, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Caesar & Co., Defendants and Appellants.

Opinion of the court, by Lord, C. J.

This is an action for the conversion of about 6639 bushels of wheat, alleged to have been deposited in the warehouse of T. Blair at Bonneville, and subsequently, in the year 1885, shipped in the steamer McCully and delivered to the defendants.

The action originated in this state of facts. During the year 1883 and 1884 the plaintiff and other persons, who have assigned their claims to him, deposited their wheat in the said warehouse, taking what is known as "weighing checks" for each load as delivered, and after the deposits for the season were completed regular warehouse receipts for the whole amount of wheat deposited were given to respondent. The amount so deposited is the amount above alleged. None of said wheat deposited by the plaintiff and his assignors was ever drawn out by him or them, but about the 1st of February, 1885, all the wheat remaining in the warehouse was shipped to the defendants at Portland. Besides these parties others were depositing wheat in said warehouse, which was mingled with the wheat deposited as stated in common bins.

The defendants, after denying the allegations of the complaint, affirmatively set out that from time to time they received wheat from Blair, and advanced money to him, and that at the close of the transactions Blair owed them $5,765 43, and that they had in their hands 6639 bushels of wheat upon which they claim a lien for said advances, and also for charges and expenses. The trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff, and judgment having been entered in accordance therewith the defendants appeal.

All the objections reserved and assigned as error are presented in the bill of exceptions. It is first objected that it was error to allow Blair to testify that the wheat in question was consigned to the defendants. The specification of error was that the only proper proof of this fact was a bill of lading. The record discloses that there was no evidence of any bill of lading or other writing showing the consignment to the defendants. The material fact for the plaintiff established was that the defendants received the wheat. The plaintiff had nothing to do with any agreement which might have existed between Blair and the defendants, nor was bound to produce the evidence which may have existed between them to fix their liabilities to each other. As between them a bill of lading is not to be regarded as a contract in writing, but merely as an admission on the part of the consignor as to his purpose at the time of making the shipment, and such admission is subject to be rebutted. The fact that the wheat was deposited with Blair is not contradicted and he testifies that it was shipped to the defendants. This was evidence tending to prove the fact at issue and was competent for that purpose, and if the defendants had any evidence to rebut it, they could have submitted it. We do not think there was any error in the ruling excepted to, nor to the succeeding assignment of error for a like reason.

It is next objected to that there was a mistake in the written demand as to the name of the boat in which the wheat was carried. The demand was made by Mr. J. F. Watson, and the conversation which took place at the time shows that the defendant knew and understood what wheat was demanded, in a word, that there was no mistake as to the property involved in the action, and therefore the mistake alleged would not prejudice the defendants.

The next assignment of error presents the question as to the effect of mingling wheat of several depositors in common bins of a public warehouse. It has been held by this court that such a deposit is a bailment, and that the depositor does not lose his right to reclaim the wheat so deposited from the common mass. It was admitted by the counsel for the appellant that the later authorities were to this effect, and when his attention was called to a late decision of this court which involved the determination of a like principle he abandoned this exception. The record, however, discloses that this assignment was the strong point on which the appellant relied to reverse the judgment, and there can be no doubt, if the position for which he contended could have been sustained, it would have been fatal to the judgment which the plaintiff obtained. But the necessity for abandoning it—the adverse decision referred to—renders some of the other assignments of error which are implied with that theory unimportant, and we shall therefore, only notice such of the other assignments as do not include these, and which counsel deemed material in producing an incorrect result.

It is contended that the court below erred in instructing the jury to consider that the plaintiff or any of his assignors ever authorized Blair to deliver any of the wheat described in the complaint to the defendants. The transcript contains all the evidence; and that part of it which it is claimed tends to show such authority is based on Blair's testimony that he had been accustomed to ship away the wheat remaining in the warehouse at Bonneville before low water came, which, taken in connection with the fact that during that time the plaintiff and his assignors had been storing wheat with him, carries the inference that such depositors did not contemplate it would lie in that warehouse all summer. In other words, it is claimed upon this state of facts that unless the plaintiff and his assignors withdrew their wheat deposited in that warehouse before low water came, they must have known it would be shipped, and consequently acquiesced in it, which was equivalent to such authorization. It is insisted, therefore, there was evidence upon this point which the court erred in excluding from the consideration of the jury. The fact that the plaintiff and his assignors had been storing wheat with Blair in the Bonneville warehouse, taken in connection with the fact that he had been in the habit of shipping wheat from this warehouse before low water, does not warrant the inference that the plaintiff or his assignors knew it, much less acquiesced or authorized the assignment or sale. There is no evidence to show that the plaintiff or his assignees knew that Blair was accustomed to ship wheat from this warehouse before low water came. The vice of the argument lies in assuming that the fact of storage of the wheat in that warehouse charges the plaintiff and his assignees with knowledge of the within fact that it was the custom of Blair to ship the wheat from the warehouse before low water came. The two facts have no necessary connection with each other as to justify such reference without the aid of further proof.

Nor do we think there was any error committed in the instruction of the court upon the question of estoppel. It is only such knowledge of the acts of Blair as indicate an intentional acquiescence, and by such conduct led the defendants to believe that the shipment of the wheat was right, but that the court instructed the jury operated as an estoppel. As a matter of law the instruction was correct, although the facts are extremely meagre, if at all, upon which to predicate an instruction of estoppel. There was no error in the language in which it was given, and under the circumstances as disclosed by the record, it was favorable to the defendants.

It was earnestly urged that the verdict in this case worked an injustice. If such was the fact, it arose out of a matter which it was the province of the jury to decide, and not out of any error of law which it is the province of this court to correct. It is not the province of a court, "in a bill of exceptions to judge of the quantum of the proof or to correct the errors of the jury, and make a bad precedent because the case is a hard one." Gibson, C. J., in Sidwell vs. Evans, 1 P. and W., 385.

After a careful examination of the record, we are constrained to affirm the judgment, and it is so ordered.

Fighting Shy of Sherman's Speech.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Tennessee democrats are still vainly looking for a member of their party, at home or abroad, who is big enough to undertake the job of answering Senator Sherman's Nashville speech, and the people of the country are meanwhile feeling more plainly from day to day that said speech belongs in the unanswerable list.

THE DAVIS PROPERTY.

Judge Sawyer Decides that it is not a Public Street.

He Holds that there is not Sufficient Proof that it was Ever Dedicated for Street Purposes.

In the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Oregon.

Benjamin Smith vs. The City of Portland. No. 1033.

SAWYER, C. J.

This is a bill in equity to enjoin the city of Portland from improving, as a street, what is claimed by the city to be a part of a public street, and, by complainant, not to be a street, but private property owned by him. The question is, whether the land is a part of College street, or a part of block 138.

The land is a part of the donation claim of Stephen Coffin, patented to him by the United States, and by Coffin laid out into a part of the city of Portland. On December 4, 1867, Coffin filed a map of that portion of the city laid out on his donation, duly executed and acknowledged by him in the county clerk's office of Multnomah county, which map was duly recorded in book H of deeds, on pages 158 and 159. This is the only map of the city filed by Coffin, and is the public record of his dedication, and, presumptively, is the map to control the location of the streets, blocks, and lots of the city, so far as it lies within the boundaries of his land. Unless Coffin either dedicated this part of land in question for a street, or the city has, otherwise, since acquired the title for that purpose, by purchase, condemnation, or other lawful means, it remains private property; and the city cannot appropriate, or interfere with it, without making due compensation. On February 11, 1869, about fourteen months after filing the plat, Coffin conveyed to Jeanette Davis, "fractional block No. (138) one hundred and thirty-eight, as designated in recorded map of S. Coffin's land claim, as recorded in book H, on pages 158 and 159 of the county records of Multnomah county, state of Oregon, and situate in the city of Portland;" being the block embracing the land in question, unless there was a street that covered it.

It will be seen that the block was conveyed "as designated in the recorded map." On the recorded map as it now appears, College street does not extend across block 138, or between blocks 138 and 139, and this strip of land is a part of block 138 and within the block as conveyed by Coffin.

If there were nothing else this would settle the question, because according to the map dedicating public streets, there is no street there, and the land in question on this map forms a part of block 138. The complainant, by various mesne conveyances, has become vested with the title acquired by Mrs. Davis.

There was a house built by the grantee of Coffin in what is now claimed to be the street, and it has been occupied by the owners of the block ever since it was built.

The record shows that at some time a line was drawn across block 138, which would show College street to run through the block. This has been erased. It was claimed by the city that this erasure occurred within the last two years before the bringing of the suit, and that the record has thus been mutilated. But it was proved beyond all doubt, as it seems to me, by reliable witnesses, among them surveyors and others, who have had occasion from time to time to examine the record carefully, that it has been in the condition now shown for many years. By the testimony of the witnesses, the appearance of the record itself, the character of the ink and handwriting, location of the figures numbering the blocks and other circumstances, I am satisfied that this line was drawn by mistake in recording the map, and erased at the time, and numbered after the erasure was made. The mistake would be quite likely to occur, as the block is on the edge of Coffin's land, where it joins a line beyond which the direction of streets is changed, so that at the intersection gores are formed. Block 138 is one of these gores, and not a full block.

If College street were run through on the broad side of the block, it would leave a small part, almost a triangle. In laying down his rule on the southerly side of College street, by the copyist, the southerly line of Coffin's land was probably covered, and without noticing the situation, the line was probably run across the block, and when discovered erased before numbering.

There are some other blocks, on that line of Coffin's claim, similarly situated, in which, as in this case, the streets are not extended through the gores. I am satisfied that this erasure was made as a correction of a mistake at the time the record was made, and that there has been no mutilation of the record as then made. The city has, undoubtedly, taxed this piece of land, from time to time, as a part of block 138; and it has been, more than once, assessed as a part of said block by the city for the improvement of the adjacent property, and such taxes and assessments have been paid by those claiming the property through the said conveyances from Coffin, and who have always occupied it.

There is some testimony, more or less improbable, in view of well established facts, that the house was built by the consent of the city officials, with the understanding that it should be removed when the land should be wanted for a street. But if this were so, of which there is much doubt, it does not settle the question of title. The official map of dedication shows this land to be a part of block 138, and not long after the map was filed, Coffin, the man who dedicated the streets, sold it, describing it in his conveyance in express terms, block 138, as the block shown on this map, thus indicating that he did not then regard this land as a public street. Located as it is, there did not seem to be any necessity for a street there.

There was an attempt to show that Coffin had sold lots both before and after the filing of this map, by other maps, upon which College street was shown as running through this block; and that, therefore, he had by recognizing such maps, practically made a dedication prior to the filing of his own map. It is doubtful whether this evidence is admissible under the pleadings. I believe the district judge refused to allow an amendment to the answer at a late stage of the case, for the purpose of letting in such testimony. However this may be, the evidence is unsatisfactory to show a prior dedication. But had he sold other lots by other maps, the parts of those maps where the lots sold are located may have been entirely correct, and being so, the maps not being his dedication, a sale of lots properly laid down by descriptions referring to those maps, would be no recognition of the correctness of those maps in other parts where they were erroneous, and to which his attention may not have been attracted. There was no evidence that he sold any lots bounded on College street, at this point, or in any of the other gores, through which streets were run on some of the maps gotten up by real estate agents. Since we have his own map, duly attested and recorded, by which he made his public dedication, the most satisfactory testimony should be required to establish a dedication other and different from that, and, especially so when it is not as against him that the fact is sought to be established, but as against strangers, who have purchased the land by the official map of record; paid a valuable consideration therefor, and since expended considerable sums in building, grading and otherwise improving it.

In my judgment, no valid dedication of a public street has been shown to have been made of the land in question, and that it is still private property in the hands of the complainant.

It is urged by defendant that complainant in his bill has alleged a legal title in himself, but in trust, for another party; that the cestui que trust is an indispensable party; and the bill must be dismissed for want of parties. If this proposition is not sound, then that the proofs show that complainant did not hold it in trust, as alleged; because he had before the filing of the bill acquired the interest of the cestui que trust, so that he was at the commencement of the suit vested with both the legal and equitable title; that his proofs do not make the case set out in his bill, and it should be dismissed for this reason. As to the first proposition, the case seems to me to be clearly within the principle laid down by the supreme court in Carey vs. Brown, 92 U. S., 171, wherein it is held that "where a suit is brought by a trustee to recover trust property or to reduce it to possession, in no wise affects his relations with his cestui que trust, it is unnecessary to make them parties." Now the relief sought in this case in no way affects the relations of the trustee with his cestui que trust.

As to the second proposition, the bill shows the legal title to be in complainant, and this, without anything more, is sufficient to entitle him to the decree.

If there are other relations existing shown by the bill and testimony, or either, that would affect his right to the relief asked, this fact does not change the aspect of the case. It is at most mere matter of surplusage in the bill, and the proof corresponding with it makes it nothing more. If he is entitled to the relief sought on the legal title, without making the cestui que trust a party, he certainly is when the latter is a party. And it can make no difference who the cestui que trust is, whether himself or some other party.

He would be entitled to the relief without the allegations of the trust, whether a trust exists or not; and he would be entitled to the same relief with the allegations of the trust, if proved. On either hypothesis he would be entitled to relief.

I think complainant is entitled to the decree prayed, with costs, and it is so ordered.
